EVERY STREET IN TOWN

Would Be Improved if Doctor Marshall

HAD IT ALL HIS OWN WAY

He Said So In Council, but Unfortunately the City Is Short of Funds—Mr. Walklet Had a Few Remarks—Tanyard Run Culvert Caused a Stir.

Council meeting was called to order at 8:05 by President Purinton, with every member present, and the largest audience council has seen for months.

Clerk Hanley read the minutes of the last meeting and Mr. Peake moved a vote be taken on their adoption in order, he said, to make the action of the meeting legal. This was carried, and the ordinance providing for the construction of a culvert over Tanyard run from the north line of Eighth street to Mill street, was read for the third time. Mr. Stewart wanted to know how much it would cost to build the culvert, and Engineer George said he had made no estimate except $3,000, the figures set by council. Mr. Marshall said it was necessary to construct the culvert, but not that far down the run. He believed it should go far enough to allow Eighth street to be widened, and made a motion to amend the ordinance. His motion was seconded by Mr. Challis, and Mr. Ashbaugh was on his feet at once, and told how everyone in that end of the city wanted the culvert, and the railroad company were perfectly willing to pay their share. Mr. Stewart was not in favor of spending so much money on one place, and Engineer George said it would cost about $10 a foot to build the culvert, and the railroad company would more willingly pay their assessments if it was built all the way. The city would have the big end of the cost in any case. Mr. Marshall here asked the solicitor if the railroad company could be assessed according to law for their share. The rest of council looked wise while the solicitor and the first warder discussed law. The solicitor finally decided that if the railroad company were anxious for a culvert all the way they would build it themselves if council did the first part of it, and if they didn't want to protect their property it was none of the city's business. Mr. Purinton said a corporation or anyone else would take advantage of the 25 per cent limitation, and council had no right to build a culvert on private ground unless the property owners said so. A vote on the amendment was carried, Ashbaugh and Peake voting no. The ordinance as amended was then put and carried, the members from the Fourth again voting no.

The ordinance to lay sidewalks on Eighth and Jethro streets, from the Horn switch to the West End school building, was read for the third time. Mr. Purinton wanted to know if other improvement ordinances had passed, and said it should meet the same fate and be laid over. Kent, Peake and Stewart spoke in favor of improving the street, as the people only wanted sidewalks put down at their expense, and the share of the city would not amount to more than $20. Engineer George said that when they got it they would not be satisfied with the job, but he thought it would be better than to have them walk in the mud the coming winter. Mr. Marshall said no argument could be made in favor of the street that could not be made in favor of every other street in the city, and the estimated cost, according to the ordinance, was $600, for which there is no money provided. "I would like to see every street and alley in the city paved," he continued, "but think it would be utterly folly to pave this street the way the people suggest. I am in favor of adhering to the report of the finance committee. All classes of people should be treated alike." Mr. Kent did not like the remarks of Doctor Marshall about paving the alleys, and said it was absurd. Someone in the audience said, "Good," and Mr. Marshall arose to speak once more, when Peake was of the opinion he had talked enough, being on the floor three times. He was recognized by the president, and stated he had meant what he said when he stated he would like to see all streets and alleys paved. Mr. Purinton then took a hand in the discussion, and he thought council should profit by past experience, and if the sidewalks were to be laid at all they should be laid right. Council should be confined to the money they had to spend and no more. "We cannot consistently pass this ordinance without lifting the others, and passing them. Then we can not let the contract as we have no money." Mr. Peake said Mr. Marshall had all the money last summer for East End improvements, and didn't want West End to have anything. Mr. Ashbaugh thought it had been before council for eight years.

Thomas M. Walklet arose at this juncture and asked permission to speak. He told how he had broken two spokes and a shaft of his buggy on account of a large hole on Huston road. He explained that he paid $3 vehicle tax and property tax as well. He was referred to the street committee and commissioner. Mr. Marshall then moved the ordinance be laid on the table. It was seconded by Mr. Horwell. The president called for remarks and Walklet had a few, but Mr. Purinton told him to wait his turn. A vote resulted in a tie, Marshall, Purinton, Horwell and Challis favoring it. The vote on the ordinance resulted the same way. Stewart wanted his vote changed, but the president would not allow it. A reconsideration was then taken, and the ordinance was finally laid on the table, Ashbaugh and Kent voting against it.

A communication from Minerva street residents objected to paying for the improvements on the street, and Walklet wanted to talk again. Avondale street people petitioned to have the street paved and give contract to Mr. Ryan at $1.10 per yard. Fire committee reported the necessity of purchasing gum coats and gloves for firemen and two copper hose jackets. The matter was left in their hands with power to act. The clerk reported the result of the election, and the reports of the city officers were received.

The ordinance to assess a special tax on property on Walnut street, from Minerva street to Calcutta road, was passed under suspension, and the resolution to improve Avondale street was read for the first time. The filling of Ravine street west lot to Wm. Brown at 23 cents per yard. Mr. Challis spoke of sidewalks on Greasy street, and Mr. Peake talked about Pleasant street, and told how the water came down Coal hill into his cellar. The matters were referred to street committee. The East Market street culvert went the same way. The clerk was instructed to issue a warrant for $6,082.85 to pay Contractor Rinehart for his work on the Calcutta road and Walnut street. Coleman & Martin were voted $700, and the clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for fixing the various culverts with the exception of Minerva and Eighth streets. Hague & Davidson's bill was left in the hands of Engineer George and Mr. Martin, who will measure the work and fix the price.

Walklet was then given a hearing and Mr. Purinton said: "You see what we have been doing in other cases. I guess we will have to do the same in yours," and Walklet replied: "I guess you will."

CHEAP WARE

Is What the Importers Are Bringing to America.

A number of crockery buyers have been in the city for several days looking for bargains. In conversation with a News Review man one of the gentlemen remarked that he never, in all his experience, and it has extended through many years, knew the time when the New York importers were buying more ware abroad than at present. All the big houses have their shrewdest and most pushing buyers on the other side, and they are arranging to meet a higher tariff by snapping up all the bargains they can find. The principal ware now coming to the country is of the cheapest kind, and a vast quantity of luster band teas has been imported during the past few months.

GOING TO ST. PAUL.

This City Will Be Well Represented By Grand Army Men.

The annual encampment of the Grand Army will be held in St. Paul next week, and as usual East Liverpool will be well represented. George Adam, Warren McCain, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Arbuckle and Mrs. Herbert will leave the city next Monday, and spend the week at the encampment. Mrs. Herbert will continue her journey through the states of the northwest, and Mr. and Mrs. Arbuckle will remain a month in St. Paul. The people of that enterprising city have spared neither time nor expense to give the old soldiers a hearty welcome.

AN EXCITING CHASE.

Shoemaker McVey Objected to a Theft.

A boy entered the shoe shop of John McVey this afternoon, and snatching two pieces of leather ran out of the room. McVey followed, and the pair ran up the alley to Fifth street. Then the youngster turned toward the Diamond, where he was captured by McVey. He pleaded piteously for mercy, and was allowed to go after giving up the stolen property.

NO MORE SEA SERPENTS

The Alliance Prevaricator Has Found a New Game.

HE REVILES EAST LIVERPOOL

Manufacturers, He Declares, Were at the Bottom of the Canton Excursion—Men to Be Discharged if They Would No Go—A Beautiful Specimen of Campaign Lie.

The Alliance has again broken out, and this time his attention is turned on the East Liverpool potters who went to Canton.

This individual has become notorious. For years he has been sending to the daily press all sorts of the wildest reports. He has been responsible for double headed calves and six legged horses without number, while his supply of lightning freaks seems to be inexhaustible. He has found the sea serpent in all kinds of queer positions, and is always in great demand when a campaign is about to open. He began his annual performance by sending what follows to the Pittsburgh Post:

"Five hundred excursionists from East Liverpool and Wellsburg passed through here today on their way to visit McKinley at Canton. While the train was at the depot the Post correspondent interviewed a dozen of the men on the Democratic outlook in their vicinity. Several of them replied: 'We are all for McKinley today, as the bosses in the potteries and shops told us that they wanted everyone to go and cheer for McKinley. To refuse would have cost us our jobs, but the bosses will not be in it on election day. Then we will vote to better our condition, and it will be for Bryan and free silver.' The men said that the silver sentiment is very strong in East Liverpool."

The silly rot will have little effect upon people in this city who know there was no demand by any manufacturer upon his men, but it tends to spread a sentiment long fostered and distributed by unprincipled people in this place. The statement is a lie, pure and simple, and the News Review and the people of the city possess sufficient sense to know no member of the party who went to Canton would make the assertion. It is only another proof that the Alliance man is the leading campaign liar of Ohio, and should at once seek a place in the councils of those millionaire miners who are back of the free silver movement.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

Wheeling Potters Are No Longer Free Silver Men.

Until recently a number of Wheeling potters were for free silver, and became so honest in their advocacy of Bryan that it reached the ears of the manager. He decided to pay them in the coin they loved so well, and when pay day arrived they were almost paralyzed to find all their due in silver. One man who had several helpers to pay vowed he would not have the stuff, and another suggested they employ an express wagon to take their wages home. The joke was so thoroughly appreciated and the silver men were so tormented by their Republican friends that free silver is seldom heard these days about the Wheeling potteries.

A GOOD TREE.

Edward Green Has Had Three Crops of Peaches.

In the yard of Edward Green, a potter residing in McKimmon addition, grows the most enterprising tree in the city. It is of no particular brand except that it bears peaches, and until recently was not looked upon with great favor. Early in the spring it blossomed profusely, and soon yielded a crop of very good peaches. Later it blossomed again, and there were more peaches. This made the owner open his eyes, but he almost dropped dead when it again passed through the operation, and began to bear fruit.

INTERESTING BUSINESS MEN.

Ladies are Working Hard on the Hospital Project.

The ladies who have decided to build a hospital for the city will hold a mass meeting at the Grand, September 22. Until that time they will do all in their power to interest business and professional men, and hope to have a large crowd at the meeting. The movement has reached that point where success seems certain, and the principals in the movement believe they are on the right road.

PERHAPS

There Will Be a Lecture Course in Town This Year.

The matter of a lecture course is being considered by the Ladies' auxiliary, but no decision has yet been reached. The course has never been a paying institution, and the ladies believe they can not now afford to lose much more money in providing entertainment.

A meeting of the society was held yesterday afternoon, and the preliminaries of the lunch to be conducted on street fair day were made. They will sell hot lunch for a nominal sum, and hope to feed thousands.

AN EXPERIMENTAL LABORATORY

Will Probably Be Established by the Manufacturers.

An important meeting of manufacturers will be held this evening, and the question of establishing an experimental laboratory will be discussed. The object is to place the institution in charge of D. C. Thomas, a graduate of the school of ceramics of the Ohio University and a tried chemist. The plan is to divide the expense proportionately among the manufacturers. All clays are to be tested, and the best methods of removing impurities found. If war crazes scientific research will endeavor to locate the cause and provide a remedy. The movement has some enthusiastic supporters, who believe a much better grade of ware would follow the introduction of the system.

COLONEL VANCE IS HAPPY.

He Sees Great Things For the Ohio River in the Future.

Colonel Vance, president of the Ohio River Improvement association, was interviewed in Cincinnati, and said: "We have something we never had before, the continuous appropriation for the improvement of the Ohio. The formation of that association was the best thing ever done for the Ohio valley. We not only secured from congress all the appropriations we could expect, but the continuous appropriation, and now there will be something for the Ohio every year, and the work will never stop until we see the river properly improved from Pittsburgh to Cairo."

IN THREE WEEKS

Will the Central District Line to Salineville Be Opened.

A large force of men are at work building the telephone line to Salineville, and it is expected to open the new service in three weeks. Poles are being planted from Yellow Creek through Ironville.

Two wires were stretched across the river yesterday afternoon, and are being held by the high pole near the freight depot. As soon as the bridge is built two additional lines will be placed in position.

A CHIMNEY FIRE.

The Department Would Have Been Called, but the Box Didn't Register.

The chimney on the house of Samuel Welch, on Greasy street, was discovered on fire this morning. An effort was made to send in an alarm to the fire station but failed, as the patrol system for some unknown cause refused to work. The fire was very slight, and a bucket of water sufficed to extinguish the flames. Fireman Deidrick was busy all day hunting for the defect in the system and finally found it. The trouble was righted.

CHANGED HIS NAME.

And the Beaver Falls Police Are Still in Ignorance.

The story is told that a well known potter went to Beaver Falls the other day, and was soon so full of the peculiar brand of liquor dispensed in that place as to attract the attention of the police. He was arrested and locked up for the night, but called to account the next morning. He had enough money to pay his fine, and as his identity had not become known the night before, he told them he was from Pittsburgh.

THREW THE PATROLMAN.

One of the City's Horses Became Too Frisky.

Patrolman McMillan came near meeting with a serious accident this morning. He was exercising one of the patrol horses when it started up Calcutta road at a rapid rate of speed. The pavement on the upper side of the Horn switch was very slippery, and the animal fell, throwing McMillan on his left shoulder and bruising it severely. The horse was scraped in several places but also escaped serious injury.

A MARCHING CLUB.

The Colored People Will Organize For McKinley.

The colored people will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of organizing a Republican marching club to help along the cause of sound money. All colored people are invited to attend, and an effort will be made to have the organization as prominent a factor in the campaign as were the old Lincoln guards.

MAYOR NOW PRESIDENT

The Street Fair Association Chose Him Last Night.

OTHER OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

An Executive Committee Which Will Meet Every Evening Was Selected—Business Will Now Move Steadily On—The Directors Will Be Well Chosen.

President, Mayor Gilbert; vice president, George H. Owen; directors, W. O. Hamilton, Dr. G. A. P. Kirt, Frank Crook, S. G. Hard, W. A. Hill, W. H. Adams, T. B. Murphy, Colonel Hill, William Erlanger, John Hodson, E. M. Crosser, William Phillips, J. H. Simms, George P. Schmidt, Charles Berg, A. Watson, A. H. Bulger, Edwin Oppelt and J. R. Warner; executive committee, W. J. McKinley, J. J. Rose, S. M. Whit, Thomas Milligan and J. C. Deidrick. G. Y. Travis is secretary and J. C. Hubbard his assistant. Adolph Joseph is the treasurer.

Upon this committee will fall the burden of the fair. All appropriations for other committees will first be made by them, and no bills will be paid until three members have countersigned them. A meeting will be held every evening, and members of the association are invited to attend and send in suggestions. Committees to look after the different branches of the fair will be appointed as soon as possible, and will serve in connection with the committee chosen by the board of trade.

UNABLE TO COLLECT.

A Prisoner Was Released From the County Jail.

LISBON, Aug. 26.—[Special]—Harry Berger, a young man from Columbiana who has been in the county jail because he could not pay a fine assessed by Judge Young, was released this morning. It was found the fine could not be collected. There are now 14 prisoners in jail, the majority being charged with penitentiary offenses.

A lot in Simms' addition to East Liverpool has been appraised at $900, and will be sold Sept. 1, to satisfy a judgment given J. D. West against William Jennings.

East Liverpool real estate has made more stir this week in the office of Recorder Lease than for months. Four transfers were sent here for record today.

A. H. CLARK TALKED.

He Made His Speech to the Bryan Club.

The free silver organization met last night with a good attendance. Routine business was transacted and Walter Cook was elected to fill the office of corresponding secretary. Some new members were received, and addresses were made by Hon. G. P. Kirt, A. H. Clark, H. J. Cartner, of Pittsburg, and Mr. Notham, president of the silver club of Alliance.

The action of the Democratic caucus in repudiating the Crisis, was heartily endorsed, and the Ohio Patriot and Pittsburg Post were selected as the official organs of the club. The meeting then adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

WILL FINISH.

Trades Council Will Wind Up Labor Day Arrangements.

Trades council will meet this evening in special session for the purpose of finishing all the preliminary arrangements for the Labor Day celebration. The list of prizes will be made up, and the time for the closing of entries will be fixed. It is especially desired that all members be present.

Members of Trades council are in the country today distributing the handsome bills announcing the exercises on Labor Day. The bills were printed in the News Review job rooms, and are beautiful.

IN A NEW PLACE.

Harry Smith Has Shaken the Dust of East Liverpool From His Feet.

Harry Smith, the popular accountant of Brant & Thompson, has shaken the dust of the city from his feet, and will in future reside in Uniontown, Pa. The gentleman has been placed in charge of the interests of the Armour company in the coke region, and will have a large amount of business to look after. Mr. Smith went to Uniontown this afternoon, and Mrs. Smith will follow next week.

No Better.

Curtis Welch, the ball player, continues in a critical state, and his death is hourly expected.

The silly rot will have little effect upon people in this city who know there was no demand by any manufacturer upon his men, but it tends to spread a sentiment long fostered and distributed by unprincipled people in this place. The statement is a lie, pure and simple, and the NEWS REVIEW and the people of the city possess sufficient sense to know no member of the party who went to Canton would make the assertion. It is only another proof that the Alliance man is the leading campaign liar of Ohio, and should at once seek a place in the councils of those millionaire miners who are back of the free silver movement.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

Wheeling Potters Are No Longer Free
Silver Men.

Until recently a number of Wheeling potters were for free silver, and became honest in their advocacy of Bryan that it reached the ears of the manager. He decided to pay them in the coin they loved so well, and when pay day arrived they were almost paralyzed to find all their due in silver. One man who had several helpers to pay vowed he would not have the stuff, and another suggested they employ an express wagon to take their wages home. The joke was so thoroughly appreciated and the silver men were so tormented by their Republican friends that free silver is seldom heard these days about the Wheeling potteries.

A GOOD TREE.

Edward Green Has Had Three Crops of Peaches.

In the yard of Edward Green, a potter residing in McKinnon addition, grows the most enterprising tree in the city. It is of no particular brand except that it bears peaches, and until recently was not looked upon with great favor. Early in the spring it blossomed profusely, and soon yielded a crop of very good peaches. Later it blossomed again, and there were more peaches. This made the owner open his eyes, but he almost dropped dead when it again passed through the operation, and began to bear fruit.

INTERESTING BUSINESS MEN.

Ladies are Working Hard on the Hospital Project.

The ladies who have decided to build a hospital for the city will hold a mass meeting at the Grand, September 22. Until that time they will do all in their power to interest business and professional men, and hope to have a large crowd at the meeting. The movement has reached that point where success seems certain, and the principals in the movement believe they are on the right road.

PERHAPS

There Will Be a Lecture Course in Town
This Year.

The matter of a lecture course is being considered by the Ladies' auxiliary, but no decision has yet been reached. The course has never been a paying institution, and the ladies believe they can not now afford to lose much more money in providing entertainment.

A meeting of the society was held yesterday afternoon, and the preliminaries of the lunch to be conducted on street fair day were made. They will sell hot lunch for a nominal sum, and hope to feed thousands.

AN EXPERIMENTAL LABORATORY

Will Probably Be Established by the Manufacturers.

An important meeting of manufacturers will be held this evening, and the question of establishing an experimental laboratory will be discussed. The object is to place the institution in charge of D. C. Thomas, a graduate of the school of ceramics of the Ohio University and a tried chemist. The plan is to divide the expense proportionately among the manufacturers. All clays are to be tested, and the best methods of removing impurities found. If ware crazes scientific research will endeavor to locate the cause and provide a remedy. The movement has some enthusiastic supporters, who believe a much better grade of ware would follow the introduction of the system.

COLONEL VANCE IS HAPPY.

He Sees Great Things For the Ohio River
In the Future.

Colonel Vance, president of the Ohio River Improvement association, was interviewed in Cincinnati, and said:

"We have something we never had before, the continuous appropriation for the improvement of the Ohio. The formation of that association was the best thing ever done for the Ohio valley. We not only secured from congress all the appropriations we could expect, but the continuous appropriation, and now there will be something for the Ohio every year, and the work will never stop until we see the river properly improved from Pittsburgh to Cairo."

IN THREE WEEKS

Will the Central District Line to Salineville Be Opened.

A large force of men are at work building the telephone line to Salineville, and it is expected to open the new service in three weeks. Poles are being flanked from Yellow Creek through Ironlake.

Two wires were stretched across the river yesterday afternoon, and are being held by the high pole near the freight depot. As soon as the bridge is built two additional lines will be placed in position.

A CHIMNEY FIRE.

The Department Would Have Been Called,
but the Box Didn't Register.

The chimney on the house of Samuel Welch, on Greasy street, was discovered on fire this morning. An effort was made to send in an alarm to the fire station but failed, as the patrol system for some unknown cause refused to work. The fire was very slight, and a bucket of water sufficed to extinguish the flames. Fireman Deidrick was busy all day hunting for the defect in the system and finally found it. The trouble was righted.

CHANGED HIS NAME.

And the Beaver Falls Police Are Still In Ignorance.

The story is told that a well known potter went to Beaver Falls the other day, and was soon so full of the peculiar brand of liquor dispensed in that place as to attract the attention of the police. He was arrested and locked up for the night, but called to account the next morning. He had enough money to pay his fine, and as his identity had not become known the night before, he told them he was from Pittsburgh.

THREW THE PATROLMAN.

One of the City's Horses Became Too
Frisky.

Patrolman McMillan came near meeting with a serious accident this morning. He was exercising one of the patrol horses when it started up Calcutta road at a rapid rate of speed. The pavement on the upper side of the Horn switch was very slippery, and the animal fell, throwing McMillan on his left shoulder and bruising it severely. The horse was scraped in several places but also escaped serious injury.

A MARCHING CLUB.

The Colored People Will Organize For McKinley.

The colored people will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of organizing a Republican marching club to help along the cause of sound money. All colored people are invited to attend, and an effort will be made to have the organization as prominent a factor in the campaign as were the old Lincoln guards.

MAYOR NOW PRESIDENT

The Street Fair Association Chose Him Last Night.

OTHER OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

An Executive Committee Which Will Meet
Every Evening Was Selected—Business Will Now Move Steadily On—The Directors Will Be Well Chosen.

The street fair association talked business for two hours last night, and succeeded in electing these officers:

President, Mayor Gilbert; vice president, George H. Owen; directors, W. O. Hamilton, Dr. G. P. Ikirt, Frank Crook, S. G. Hard, W. A. Hill, W. H. Adams, T. B. Murphy, Colonel Hill, William Erlanger, John Hodson, E. M. Crosser, William Phillips, J. H. Simms, George P. Schmidt, Charles Berg, A. Watson, A. H. Bulger, Edwin Oppelt and J. R. Warner; executive committee, W. J. McKinney, J. J. Rose, S. M. Whit, Thomas Milligan and J. C. Deidrick. G. Y. Travis is secretary and J. C. Hubbard his assistant. Adolph Joseph is the treasurer.

Upon this committee will fall the burden of the fair. All appropriations for other committees will first be made by them, and no bills will be paid until three members have countersigned them. A meeting will be held every evening, and members of the association are invited to attend and send in suggestions. Committees to look after the different branches of the fair will be appointed as soon as possible, and will serve in connection with the committee chosen by the board of trade.

UNABLE TO COLLECT.

A Prisoner Was Released From the County Jail.

LISBON, Aug. 26.—[Special]—Harry Berger, a young man from Columbiana who has been in the county jail because he could not pay a fine assessed by Judge Young, was released this morning. It was found the fine could not be collected. There are now 14 prisoners in jail, the majority being charged with penitentiary offenses.

A lot in Simms' addition to East Liverpool has been appraised at $900, and will be sold Sept. 1, to satisfy a judgment given J. D. West against William Jennings.

East Liverpool real estate has made more stir this week in the office of Recorder Lease than for months. Four transfers were sent here for record today.

A. H. CLARK TALKED.

He Made His Speech to the Bryan Club.

The free silver organization met last night with a good attendance. Routine business was transacted and Walter Cook was elected to fill the office of corresponding secretary. Some new members were received, and addresses were made by Hon. G. P. Ikirt, A. H. Clark, H. J. Cartner, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. Nottam, president of the silver club of Alliance.

The action of the Democratic caucus in repudiating the Crisis, was heartily endorsed, and the Ohio Patriot and Pittsburgh Post were selected as the official organs of the club. The meeting then adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

WILL FINISH.

Trades Council Will Wind Up Labor Day
Arrangements.

Trades council will meet this evening in special session for the purpose of finishing all the preliminary arrangements for the Labor Day celebration. The list of prizes will be made up, and the time for the closing of entries will be fixed. It is especially desired that all members be present.

Members of Trades council are in the country today distributing the handsome bills announcing the exercises on Labor Day. The bills were printed in the NEWS REVIEW job rooms, and are beautiful.

IN A NEW PLACE.

Harry Smith Has Shaken the Dust of East Liverpool From His Feet.

Harry Smith, the popular accountant of Brant & Thompson, has shaken the dust of the city from his feet, and will in future reside in Uniontown, Pa. The gentleman has been placed in charge of the interests of the Armour company in the coke region, and will have a large amount of business to look after. Mr. Smith went to Uniontown this afternoon, and Mrs. Smith will follow next week.

No Better.

Curtis Welch, the ball player, continues in a critical state, and his death is hourly expected.

MAJOR MCKINLEY has completed his letter of acceptance, and readers of the NEWS REVIEW will have it all tomorrow evening.

THE triumph of Democracy means the downfall of the people. No nation can long endure the panics and misfortunes of a silver standard.

In the general public believes President Warner, of the Bimetallie league, is organizing free silver clubs for the sport he can find in the arduous task, then is the general public mistaken.

If the Democratic campaign committee are alive to the interests of their candidates they will have Li Hung Chang make a few speeches while he is in the country. Li is a noted free silver man.

IN MEXICO.

The best example of silver standard countries is Mexico. The laborer gets next to nothing for his work, and pays two prices for what he buys. Labor is paid according to wages made by a silver basis, and merchandise is sold as if the nation used the gold standard.
An American mine manager may receive a salary of $1,800 a year, but he is paid in the silver money of Mexico. If his family are with him, and his wife goes shopping, the money soon disappears. A pair of stockings which could be bought in any store of this country for 25 cents costs one silver dollar, and a linen suit, sold in the United States for $5, costs $20 across the border, while a pair of $1.50 shoes can not be purchased for less than $6. Flour sells for $7 a hundred pounds, and potatoes are usually the same price. A steak worth 15 cents in this country will bring 40 cents in the markets of Mexico, and butter is worth from 75 cents to $1 a pound. Dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes are as high as provisions, and the poor people know nothing whatever about them. A clerk who is paid from $5 to $7 a week must know all about the business in which he is engaged, but he can not afford to buy anything but the cheapest clothing and live on the cheapest food. The poor people are so poor as to be far below the place they should occupy, and their constant struggle against the demon of poverty is steadily increasing crime. Times are always hard in Mexico. They know no such word as prosperity. The country is filled with despair, and it will be as long as its people are cursed with the silver standard.

Excursions to Steubenville.

September 2, 3, and 4, low round trip tickets will be sold to Steubenville from Carnegie, New Cumberland, Short Creek, Portland, East Liverpool, Cadiz, and intermediate ticket stations on Pennsylvania lines for the races; return coupons valid Sept. 5, inclusive.

Advance Style of Fall Suits.

Advantages of Buying Early:

We buy our goods in advance of the season. By doing so we can take plenty of time to compare styles and prices, pick out the handsome patterns, and decide on the best qualities. We get just what we want and have it on hand just when we want it. We like the plan so well that we strongly recommend it to our customers; it will pay them for exactly the same reason that it pays us. The man who buys early gets a full season's use of his clothes; he finds the suit very comfortable several weeks before he expected to need it, and he is usually better satisfied because he has taken time to make a careful selection.

FANCY SCOTCH MIXTURES.

Mixtures of Green, Brown, Grey, Red will be the sellers for the coming season, up to date goods. Made in Sack Coat, either 3 or 4 button Sack. Fly Front Coats and Vests are very popular. We have them also in Cutaway or Double-breasted Suits.
These suits are made by the best manufacturers in the United States—houses that have a reputation all over the country—no Cheap John make do we carry. (Sweat Shop Make). Such goods we have no room for at any price. They are dear whatever price you pay for them.
First place they are not sewed, they have no fit; you might as well wear your old suit, as after a week's wear you have an old suit. Buy reliable make goods, you will profit by it. It needs no argument. We will convince you on seeing the superiority of well-made suits at our store. The E. and M. Special Hat can't help but please you. It is a seller with us. See our Men's Stiff Hat we sell at 98 and $1.48.

JOSEPH BROS.

EARNEST APPEAL

Union Veterans Urged to Rally Around McKinley.

THE DANGERS OF THIS CRISIS.

Combinations Which Now Threaten the Integrity of the Country—A Nation
Once Saved Again Needs the Soldiers' Help—They Have Lost None of Their Love of Country or Devotion to the Old Flag—A Call of Honor.

The Union Veterans' Patriotic league, of which Major General Daniel E.
Sickles is president, and Major General
William B. Franklin and Major General Horace Porter are vice presidents, has issued an address to the surviving soldiers and sailors who served in the Union army and navy during the war of the rebellion. The address follows:
"Comrades—Your country is again in peril! In the present presidential campaign dangerous combinations again threaten the integrity of the government. Misguided men conspire to bring reputation, dishonor and financial ruin upon the nation once saved by your valor.

"The men who once answered the call to put down rebellion and save the Union have lost none of their love for the country and their devotion to the flag they fought to uphold, and they see in the present situation an attempt to tarnish the good name of the republic and break down its most cherished institutions.

"The stars and stripes symbolize to those who offered their lives in its defense a country united and powerful, respected at home, honored the world over for its power, its justice, and still more for its integrity, honesty and fair dealing.

"Comrades, you believe in liberty under law, in public order, in the maintenance of our courts of justice, and in national honor and good faith. You are unalterably opposed to the red flag of anarchy and mob rule. We believe that you resent with earnestness all attacks upon the executive and judicial departments of our government, and commend all measures which vindicate the supremacy of the law and restore public order whenever endangered.

"Many of our great leaders have been mustered out. Grant, Sherman, Sheriman, McClellan, Thomas, Hancock, Burnside, Garfield, Logan, Dix, and many others have gone to their reward.
Were they living, they would be united with us in this crisis as they were in the days of the war. It remains for us, their comrades, who followed where they led, to guard the good work they upheld while living and to preserve all they helped us to gain for our country.

"What Would Be Lost.
"Should this dangerous and revolutionary political conspiracy against the financial honor and integrity of the government succeed every pensioner, every depositor in a savings bank, and every policy holder in an insurance company, co-operative bank and building and loan association and assessment insurance society would lose one half of what is due him by being paid in 50-cent silver dollars. The price of everything the workingman buys would be doubled, but he would have to struggle and wait long before he secured any substantial increase of his wages.

"Feeling assured that in this crisis you, the Union veterans of the late war, are almost unanimously united in favor of an honest government and a faithful adherence to the principles for which we contended, we appeal to you to lay aside all partisan differences, to prefer country to party now as in the dark days of the civil war, and rally to the support of our gallant commander, Major McKinley, the first private soldier who has ever been nominated for the high office of president of the United States, who stood shoulder to shoulder with you in many memorable battles, and for two long years carried his musket and shared the toil and danger which fell to the lot of the men in the ranks who defended the Union, and who today stands for the maintenance of the good name and honor of the country.

"Major McKinley is a comrade tried and trusted. He is pledged to the principles for which you so freely exposed your lives and for which so many thousands of your comrades died on battlefields, in fever-infected camps and in prison pens.

"We feel that the country is again in the presence of a great danger, and that it is the duty of the men who saved
it before to rally to its defense now.
Therefore we urge you to form yourselves into an association to be known as 'The Union Veterans' Patriotic League,' and do all in your power as individuals and members of the league to secure the triumph of the right.

Plans of organization will be furnished from this office.

A Call to Action.

"We ask you to unite without reference to your past party affiliations and come together in non-partisan associations as you did in those other days.

"The sons of the fathers who followed the flag from 1861 to 1865 should defend the blessings secured to them by the services, the sufferings and the valor of their sires. Therefore we invite all sons of veteran sires to unite with us in this campaign against national dishonor.

"We urge every veteran and son of veteran to send his address to our secretary, Colonel L. Edwin Dudley, at 1 East Ninth street, New York city.

"Yours in bonds of comradeship."
This call bears the signatures of more than a hundred prominent ex-soldiers of the civil war, Republicans and Democrats, Sickles, Porter, Sigel, Howard, Franklin, Woodford, McCook, Proctor and others.

FREE SILVER IN MEXICO.

Low Wages and High Prices—An Engineer's Experience.

The friends of free silver try to persuade us that it would not matter if the United States did go on a silver basis and was reduced to the same condition as Mexico (as it would be), "because," they say, "labor in Mexico is very highly paid." Is it? That is what a correspondent of Dixie, the southern newspaper, writes from Mexico—and no one will claim that Dixie is a gold bug organ or is interested in misleading railway men. The correspondent writes:

"I was amused at the way one of the conductors with whom I talked referred to his salary. I asked him what his position was worth. 'Well,' he said,
'that's a pretty hard question to answer. When the month is up the paymaster hands me out 150 Mexican dollars, and it depends upon what the market price of these dollars happens to be on that particular day as to what amount I have earned during the month. Sometimes the dollars are worth 55 cents each, sometimes 52 cents each, sometimes more or less; but the truth of it is I never know what I have earned until I investigate and learn the market quotations on Mexican dollars.'

"Well," I said, "how do your expenses in Mexico compare with expenses that you would have in the United States?"

"My expenses in Mexico are greater,"
he said. "For a while I was on the upper end of the road and boarded at San Antonio, Tex. There I paid $1 per month board. Now I am boarding in Torreón and pay $40 per month board in Mexican money. But what goes the hardest with me is that I have to pay so much for wearing apparel. If I could wear what is made here in Mexico I could get it very cheaply, but I have to buy American shirts, American shoes and hats, and, indeed, practically everything I wear comes from the United States."

"They don't manufacture articles of a character here in Mexico suitable for our use, so when I buy a pair of shoes
I have to pay double value and duty added. That makes this pair of shoes that I am wearing worth $7.50 in Mexican money, and I could buy the same shoes in Texas for $2.50 or $3. The same is true about everything that I wear, and I'll tell you the truth, friend, when I've paid my board and settled for the things that I've been compelled to buy during the month I wouldn't be a welcome guest in a poker game."

HOBART IS PLEASED.

Approves of McKinley's Plan
Not to Stump.

CALLED ON THE MAJOR AT CANTON

He Then Went to his Home in the East.
Editor Kohlsaat also Called—A Number of Delegations Expected in Canton This Week.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26.—Garrett A. Hobart, Republican nominee for vice president, who paid Major McKinley a visit at Canton, proceeding eastward from here for his eastern home. Mr. Hobart is understood to have said at Canton that the situation in the east is as bright as the Republicans could wish it and that every eastern state will surely cast its electoral vote for the Republican ticket.

The only fight in the campaign is in several of the western states. Mr. Hobart also expressed his hearty approval of Major McKinley's determination not to take the stump, but to remain at his home in Canton discussing the issues of the campaign to the visiting delegations, as he has done up to the present. It is understood that Hobart's program is the same, at least to the extent of not taking the stump during the campaign.

H. H. Kohlsaat, who arrived on the same train as did Mr. Hobart, has gone west to Chicago. Mr. Kohlsaat reported the campaign as progressing entirely satisfactory to the Republicans.

The fight is confined to the west, he thinks, and the work of the Republican committee continues to bear satisfactory fruits. Realizing that Major Mc-Kinley's time would be well occupied by the visit of Mr. Herbert the delegates to the Teachers' institute did not call yesterday, as arranged, but called today. Additional delegations are announced for this week.

The league delegates from the Milwaukee convention will arrive tomorrow. Railway workers starting from Chicago and picked up en route, come on Friday. Three delegations are booked for Saturday, one made up of commercial travelers, a workmen's club from Columbus and German residents of Cleveland.

According to present plans Major Mc-Kinley's letter of acceptance will become public property on Thursday morning.

PLATT DECLINED.

He Refused to Take the Republican Nomination for Governor.

SARATOGA, Aug. 26.—Mr. Platt absolutely refused to be the Republican nominee for governor.

As a result 14 candidates are struggling for the nomination, the leaders being Aldridge and Fish. Two ballots were fruitless.

The platform adopted endorses the St. Louis plan, and McKinley and Hobart, Governor Morton's administration and strongly condemns free silver.

The most interesting contest before the credentials committee was that from Herkimer, between Titus Sheard
(the sitting delegate) and Warner Miller, the latter accusing the former of fraud. The committee's report, making the temporary roll permanent, excluded Mr. Miller from a state convention for the first time in 30 years.
Miller tried to speak, but was howled down. Platt finally moved that his arch enemy be allowed to talk, which carried.

Mr. Miller then began to speak. His remarks were dignified and not incen-dary. His declaration of Republicanism, despite such treatment as might be

WARNER MILLER, WHO THANKS MR. PLATT FOR BEING ALLOWED TO SPEAK.

accorded him, brought forth a storm of applause, and his declaration of loyalty to the party was similarly received.

He began his address with a mild, sarcastic reference to Mr. Platt by saying: "I did not believe that this convention would refuse me a hearing, but it seems to me, sir, that it took the power of one man (Platt) to grant me that hearing, and I return to him my thanks for the courtesy of commanding this convention to give me a hearing.

He then took his seat among the spectators, being wildly cheered.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

Woodmansee a Leading Candidate For the Presidency.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26.—The National Republican League convention is in session here.

D. D. Woodmansee of Ohio responded to the welcome of the mayor of Milwaukee and President Harper of the Wisconsin League.

Today the convention will decide whether or not to hold the convention biennially instead of yearly. The league presidential contest has narrowed down to D. D. Woodmansee of Ohio, Charles U. Gordon of Illinois and General McAlpin of New York, John Webster of Nebraska and F. R.
Conaway of Iowa having announced their withdrawal. The selection of a city for holding the next convention will also be decided today.

Silverites Fuse in California.

White claims that Scott & Browne of
New York, who sell Scott's Emulsion
of Cod Liver Oil, had got Dr. McNeal to use the laws of Ohio against his medicine, which was a rival.

It is charged that Scott & Browne employed Dr. R. G. Eckles, a chemist
in New York city, to prepare and read
a paper before the New York Pharmaceutical association, attacking and decriing Paskola, and that the paper
was published in various druggists' circulars in the United States, and was also published in the Cincinnati Lancet-
Clinic, which is owned and edited by J.
C. Culbertson, for which publication Culbertson was paid. Culbertson at the time was connected with Dr. Mc-Neal's department.

ard convention at Indianapolis.

DR. McNEAL NOT ALARMED.

He Talks About the Damage Suit Against His Department.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 26.—Food Commissioner McNeal is not alarmed at the long expected suit against the state dairy and food department for alleged damages growing out of the famous "Paskola" prosecution and the investigation by the legislature which followed the prosecution.
The suit is for $200,000 damages, which is claimed to be the actual money lost to A. J. White (Limited) of New York, the company manufacturing the article known to the trade as "Paskola."

"I am responsible for the prosecution of 'Paskola,'" he said. "I used it myself, and was afterward told by the druggist from whom I bought it that it contained commercial glucose. I instructed Luebbing to procure samples of it at Cincinnati and the prosecution followed. I never had any communication with Scott & Bowen, nor did I know until Dr. Culbertson so testified on the stand that he had issued an extra edition of the Lancet-Clinic containing the article on 'Paskola' and had been paid for it."

"Then, so far as you yourself are concerned, there was no conspiracy in the prosecution of 'Paskola'?"

"None at all."

White claims that Scott & Browne of
New York, who sell Scott's Emulsion
of Cod Liver Oil, had got Dr. McNeal
to use the laws of Ohio against his medicine, which was a rival.

It is charged that Scott & Browne
employed Dr. R. G. Eckles, a chemist
in New York city, to prepare and read
a paper before the New York Pharmaceutical association, attacking and decriing Paskola, and that the paper
was published in various druggists' circulars in the United States, and was also published in the Cincinnati Lancet-
Clinic, which is owned and edited by J.
C. Culbertson, for which publication
Culbertson was paid. Culbertson at the time was connected with Dr. Mc-
Neal's department.

Supreme Lodge and Different Brigade
Meetings Held.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26.—Nearly every supreme representative to the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias was in his place when Supreme Chancellor Richie called the lodge to order.

The meeting was held in the ballroom of the Pythian Temple on Huron street. The building on the exterior was beautifully decorated and the inside of the ballroom was a tower of flowers and emblematic designs of the order.

Chairman James Dunn of the committee on arrangements addressed the supreme representatives in a brief talk welcoming them in the name of the local Knights. He then introduced Mayor McKisson, who addressed the lodge. Chancellor Richie responded to Mayor McKisson's hearty welcome.

The lodge immediately went into secret session, and, after being duly organized, conferred the supreme lodge rank on 48 new candidates. The reports of the officers were referred to committees.

General brigade meetings were held at the different state headquarters.

The parade this afternoon was pronounced by all those who participated the finest ever given at a biennial encampment. Certainly it was the greatest parade of the kind ever seen in this city. The line of march was about five miles long, and the streets throughout all that distance were packed with people. There were 4,500 men in line.

Haggis.

Some writers have said that the derivation of the word is traceable to hagg, an old English word meaning a highly flavored dish. "Hudibras" has:

As French cooks use
Their haggis, boudins, or ragouts;
or, as the line is said to have stood originally.</

MAJOR MCKINLEY has completed his letter of acceptance, and readers of the NEWS REVIEW will have it all tomorrow evening.

The triumph of Democracy means the downfall of the people. No nation can long endure the punics and misfortunes of a silver standard.

If the general public believes President Warner, of the Bimetallal league, is organizing free silver clubs for the sport he can find in the arduous task, then is the general public mistaken.

If the Democratic campaign committee are alive to the interests of their candidates they will have Li Hung Chang make a few speeches while he is in the country. Li is a noted free silver man.

IN MEXICO.

The best example of silver standard countries is Mexico. The laborer gets next to nothing for his work, and pays two prices for what he buys. Labor is paid according to wages made by a silver basis, and merchandise is sold as if the nation used the gold standard. An American mine manager may receive a salary of $1,800 a year, but he is paid in the silver money of Mexico. If his family are with him, and his wife goes shopping, the money soon disappears. A pair of stockings which could be bought in any store of this country for 25 cents costs one silver dollar, and a linen suit, sold in the United States for $5, costs $20 across the border, while a pair of $1.50 shoes can not be purchased for less than $6. Flour sells for $7 a hundred pounds, and potatoes are usually the same price. A steak worth 15 cents in this country will bring 40 cents in the markets of Mexico, and butter is worth from 75 cents to $1 a pound. Dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes are as high as provisions, and the poor people know nothing whatever about them. A clerk who is paid from $5 to $7 a week must know all about the business in which he is engaged, but he can not afford to buy anything but the cheapest clothing and live on the cheapest food. The poor people are so poor as to be far below the place they should occupy, and their constant struggle against the demon of poverty is steadily increasing crime. Times are always hard in Mexico. They know no such word as prosperity. The country is filled with despair, and it will be as long as its people are cursed with the silver standard.

Excursions to Steubenville. September 2, 3, and 4, low round trip tickets will be sold to Steubenville from Carnegie, New Cumberland, Short Creek, Portland, East Liverpool, Cadiz, and intermediate ticket stations on Pennsylvania lines for the races; return coupons valid Sept. 5, inclusive.

Advance Style of Fall Suits.

Advantages of Buying Early:

We buy our goods in advance of the season. By doing so we can take plenty of time to compare styles and prices, pick out the handsome patterns, and decide on the best qualities. We get just what we want and have it on hand just when we want it. We like the plan so well that we strongly recommend it to our customers; it will pay them for exactly the same reason that it pays us. The man who buys early gets a full season's use of his clothes; he finds the suit very comfortable several weeks before he expected to need it, and he is usually better satisfied because he has taken time to make a careful selection.

FANCY SCOTCH MIXTURES.

Mixtures of Green, Brown, Grey, Red will be the sellers for the coming season, up to date goods. Made in Sack Coat, either 3 or 4 button Sack. Fly Front Coats and Vests are very popular. We have them also in Cutaway or Double-breasted Suits.

These suits are made by the best manufacturers in the United States—houses that have a reputation all over the country—no Cheap John make do we carry. (Sweet Shop Make). Such goods we have no room for at any price. They are dear whatever price you pay for them. First place they are not sewed, they have no fit; you might as well wear your old suit, as after a week's wear you have an old suit. Buy reliable made goods, you will profit by it. It needs no argument. We will convince you on seeing the superiority of well-made suits at our store. The E. and M. Special Hat can't help but please you. It is a seller with us. See our Men's Stiff Hat we sell at 98 and $1.48.

EARNEST APPEAL

Union Veterans Urged to Rally Around McKinley.

THE DANGERS OF THIS CRISIS.

Combinations Which Now Threaten the Integrity of the Country—A Nation Once Saved Again Needs the Soldiers' Help—They Have Lost None of Their Love of Country or Devotion to the Old Flag—A Call of Honor.

The Union Veterans' Patriotic league, of which Major General Daniel E. Sickles is president, and Major General William B. Franklin and Major General Horace Porter are vice presidents, has issued an address to the surviving soldiers and sailors who served in the Union army and navy during the war of the rebellion. The address follows: "Comrades—Your country is again in peril! In the present presidential campaign dangerous combinations again threaten the integrity of the government. Misguided men conspire to bring repudiation, dishonor and financial ruin upon the nation once saved by your valor.

"The men who once answered the call to put down rebellion and save the Union have lost none of their love for the country and their devotion to the flag they fought to uphold, and they see in the present situation an attempt to tarnish the good name of the republic and break down its most cherished institutions.

"The stars and stripes symbolize to those who offered their lives in its defense a country united and powerful, respected at home, honored the world over for its power, its justice, and still more for its integrity, honesty and fair dealing.

"Comrades, you believe in liberty under law, in public order, in the maintenance of our courts of justice, and in national honor and good faith. You are unalterably opposed to the red flag of anarchy and mob rule. We believe that you resent with earnestness all attacks upon the executive and judicial departments of our government, and commend all measures which vindicate the supremacy of the law and restore public order whenever endangered.

"Many of our great leaders have been mustered out. Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, McClellan, Thomas, Hancock, Burnside, Garfield, Logan, Dix, and many others have gone to their reward. Were they living, they would be united with us in this crisis as they were in the days of the war. It remains for us, their comrades, who followed where they led, to guard the good work they upheld while living and to preserve all they helped us to gain for our country.

What Would He Lost.

"Should this dangerous and revolutionary political conspiracy against the financial honor and integrity of the government succeed every pensioner, every depositor in a savings bank and every policy holder in an insurance company, co-operative bank and building and loan association and assessment insurance society would lose one half of what is due him by being paid in 50-cent silver dollars. The price of everything the workman buys would be doubled, but he would have to struggle and wait long before he secured any substantial increase of his wages.

"Feeling assured that in this crisis you, the Union veterans of the late war, are almost unanimously united in favor of an honest government and a faithful adherence to the principles for which we contended, we appeal to you to lay aside all partisan differences, to prefer country to party now as in the dark days of the civil war, and rally to the support of our gallant comrade, Major McKinley, the first private soldier who has ever been nominated for the high office of president of the United States, who stood shoulder to shoulder with you in many memorable battles, and for two long years carried his musket and shared the toil and danger which fell to the lot of the men in the ranks who defended the Union, and who today stands for the maintenance of the good name and honor of the country.

"Major McKinley is a comrade tried and trusted. He is pledged to the principle for which you so freely exposed your lives and for which so many thousands of your comrades died on battlefields, in fever-infected camps and in prison pens.

"We feel that the country is again in the presence of a great danger, and that it is the duty of the men who saved it before to rally to its defense now. Therefore we urge you to form yourselves into an association to be known as 'The Union Veterans' Patriotic League,' and do all in your power as individuals and members of the league to secure the triumph of the right. Plans of organization will be furnished from this office.

A Call to Action.

"We ask you to unite without reference to your past party affiliations and come together in non-partisan associations as you did in those other days.

"The sons of the fathers who followed the flag from 1861 to 1865 should defend the blessings secured to them by the services, the sufferings and the valor of their sires. Therefore we invite all sons of veteran sires to unite with us in this campaign against national dishonor.

"We urge every veteran and son of veteran to send his address to our secretary, Colonel L. Edwin Dudley, at 1 East Ninth street, New York city.

"Yours in bonds of comradeship."

This call bears the signatures of more than a hundred prominent ex-soldiers of the civil war, Republicans and Democrats, Sickles, Porter, Sigel, Howard, Franklin, Woodford, McCook, Proctor and others.

FREE SILVER IN MEXICO.

Low Wages and High Prices—An Engineer's Experience.

The friends of free silver try to persuade us that it would not matter if the United States did go on a silver basis and was reduced to the same condition as Mexico (as it would be), "because," they say, "labor in Mexico is very highly paid." Is it? That is what a correspondent of Dixie, the southern newspaper, writes from Mexico—and no one will claim that Dixie is a gold bug or an interested in misleading railway men. The correspondent writes:

"I was amused at the way one of the conductors with whom I talked referred to his salary. I asked him what his position was worth. 'Well,' he said, 'that's a pretty hard question to answer. When the month is up the paymaster hands me out 150 Mexican dollars, and it depends upon what the market price of these dollars happens to be on that particular day as to what amount I have earned during the month. Some times the dollars are worth 55 cents each, sometimes 62 cents each, sometimes more or less; but the truth of it is I never know what I have earned until I investigate and learn the market quotations on Mexican dollars.'

"Well," I said, "how do your expenses in Mexico compare with expenses that you would have in the United States?"

"My expenses in Mexico are greater," he said. "For a while I was on the upper end of the road and boarded at San Antonio, Tex. There I paid $18 per month board. Now I am boarding in Torreon and pay $40 per month board in Mexican money. But what goes the hardest with me is that I have to pay so much for wearing apparel. If I could wear what is made here in Mexico I could get it very cheaply, but I have to buy American shirts, American shoes and hats, and, indeed, practically everything I wear comes from the United States."

"They don't manufacture articles of a character here in Mexico suitable for our use, so when I buy a pair of shoes I have to pay double value and duty added. That makes this pair of shoes that I am wearing worth $7.50 in Mexican money, and I could buy the same shoes in Texas for $2.50 or $3. The same is true about everything that I wear, and I'll tell you the truth, friend, when I've paid my board and settled for the things that I've been compelled to buy during the month I wouldn't be a welcome guest in a poker game."

HOBART IS PLEASED.

Approves of McKinley's Plan Not to Stump.

CALLED ON THE MAJOR AT CANTON

He Then Went to his Home in the East. Editor Kohlsaat also Called—A Number of Delegations Expected in Canton This Week.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26.—Garrett A. Hobart, Republican nominee for vice president, who paid Major McKinley a visit at Canton, proceeding eastward from here for his eastern home. Mr. Hobart is understood to have said at Canton that the situation in the east is as bright as the Republicans could wish it and that every eastern state will surely cast its electoral vote for the Republican ticket.

The only fight in the campaign is in several of the western states. Mr. Hobart also expressed his hearty approval of Major McKinley's determination not to take the stump, but to remain at his home in Canton discussing the issues of the campaign to the visiting delegations, as he has done up to the present. It is understood that Hobart's program is the same, at least to the extent of not taking the stump during the campaign.

H. H. Kohlsaat, who arrived on the same train as did Mr. Hobart, has gone west to Chicago. Mr. Kohlsaat reported the campaign as progressing entirely satisfactory to the Republicans. The fight is confined to the west, he thinks, and the work of the Republican committee continues to bear satisfactory fruits. Realizing that Major McKinley's time would be well occupied by the visit of Mr. Herbert the delegates to the Teachers' institute did not call yesterday, as arranged, but called today. Additional delegations are announced for this week.

The league delegates from the Milwaukee convention will arrive tomorrow. Railway workers starting from Chicago and picked up enroute, come on Friday. Three delegations are booked for Saturday, one made up of commercial travelers, workmen's club from Columbus and German residents of Cleveland.

According to present plans Major McKinley's letter of acceptance will become public property on Thursday morning.

PLATT DECLINED.

He Refused to Take the Republican Nomination For Governor.

SARATOGA, Aug. 26.—Mr. Platt absolutely refused to be the Republican nominee for governor.

As a result 14 candidates are struggling for the nomination, the leaders being Aldridge and Fish. Two ballots were fruitless.

The platform adopted endorses the St. Louis platform, McKinley and Hobart, Governor Morton's administration and strongly condemns free silver. The most interesting contest before the credentials committee was that from Herkimer, between Titus Sheard (the sitting delegate) and Warner Miller, the latter accusing the former of fraud. The committee's report, making the temporary roll permanent, excluded Mr. Miller from a state convention for the first time in 30 years.

Miller tried to speak, but was howled down. Platt finally moved that his arch enemy be allowed to talk, which carried.

Mr. Miller then began to speak. His remarks were dignified and not incendiary. His declaration of Republicanism, despite such treatment as might be accorded him, brought forth a storm of applause, and his declaration of loyalty to the party was similarly received.

WARNER MILLER, WHO THANKS MR. PLATT FOR BEING ALLOWED TO SPEAK.

He began his address with a mild, sarcastic reference to Mr. Platt by saying:

"I did not believe that this convention would refuse me a hearing. But it seems to me, sir, that it took the power of one man (Platt) to grant me that hearing, and I return to him my thanks for the courtesy of commanding this convention to give me a hearing."

He then took his seat among the spectators, being widely cheered.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

Woodmansee a Leading Candidate For the Presidency.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26.—The National Republican League convention is in session here.

D. D. Woodmansee of Ohio responded to the welcome of the mayor of Milwaukee and President Harper of the Wisconsin League.

Today the convention will decide whether or not to hold the convention biennially instead of yearly. The league presidential contest has narrowed down to D. D. Woodmansee of Ohio, Charles U. Gordon of Illinois and General McAlpin of New York, John W. Webster of Nebraska and F. R. Conaway of Iowa having announced their withdrawal. The selection of a city for holding the next convention will also be decided today.

Silverites Fuse in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—The union in this state between silver forces on presidential electors is complete. The Peoples party state executive committee has decided in favor of the proposed agreement giving five electors to the Democratic party and four to the Populists.

The Weather.

Fair, probably followed by local showers along the lakes this evening; warmer; fresh and brisk southwesterly winds.

California Gold Delegates.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—The National Democratic party of California has selected delegates to the gold standard convention at Indianapolis.

Haggis.

Some writers have said that the derivation of the word is traceable to hagg, signifying a highly flavored dish. "Huddibras" has.

As French cooks use their hand gouts, boudies or ragouts; or, as the line is said to have stood originally:

Their hand gouts, boudies or ragouts. Part II, 1, 508.

But a haggis contains minced meats, and the derivation of the word is more likely to be that given by John Hill Burton, no mean authority on such a subject. Writing of some French words, and some words of French origin, which crept into common use in many parts of Scotland, such as gigot, ash, etc., he alludes to Burns' song on the haggis as a national dish and adds:

"Yet there can be no question that this potent pudding is the lineal descendant of the French hachis."

Jameson's explanation is as follows: Dr. Johnson derives haggis from hagg or hack. The last is certainly the proper origin, if we may judge from the Sw. term used in the same sense, hack-polis, a minced porridge. Haggies retains the form of the S. v. hag. In Gael it is tagais, as there is no h in that language; Arm. hachais, Fr. hachais.

WHITNEY-VANDERBILT.

Representatives of Two Wealthy Families Married at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 26.—The wedding of Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, to Mr. Harry Payne Whitney, oldest son of the former secretary of the navy, William C. Whitney, took place at "The Breakers," the Vanderbilt summer residence. Although the wedding has been awaited with great interest, it was, in a way, a disappointment.

None at all."

White claims that Scott & Browne of New York, who sell Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, had got Dr. McNeal to use the laws of Ohio against his medicine, which was a rival.

It is charged that Scott & Browne employed Dr. R. G. Eckles, a chemist in New York city, to prepare and read a paper before the New York Pharmaceutical association, attacking and denigrating Paskola, and that the paper read was published in various druggists' circulars in the United States, and was also published in the Cincinnati Lancet-Clinic, which is owned and edited by J. C. Culbertson, for which publication Culbertson was paid. Culbertson at the time was connected with Dr. McNeal's department.

K. OF P. ENCAMPMENT.

Supreme Lodge and Different Brigade Meetings Held.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26.—Nearly every supreme representative to the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias was in his place when Supreme Chancellor Richie called the lodge to order.

The meeting was held in the ballroom of the Pythian Temple on Huron street. The building on the exterior was beautifully decorated and the inside of the ballroom was a tower of flowers and emblematic designs of the order.

Chairman James Dunn of the committee on arrangements addressed the supreme representatives in a brief talk welcoming them in the name of the local Knights. He then introduced Mayor McKisson, who addressed the lodge. Chancellor Richie responded to Mayor McKisson's hearty welcome.

BRYAN COMING WEST.

Making Speeches Through New York State.

DINED WITH HILL AT ALBANY.

Several Prominent Democrats at the Same Table—Mr. Bryan Then Spoke to Fully 7,000 People—A Platform Broke Down at Utica.

ALBANY, Aug. 26.—The second day of William J. Bryan's trip westward from the seclusion of Red Hook was an eventful one, crowded with a variety of incidents of travel, including a picturesque reception at a summer hotel, a stirring speech to a crowd of workmen at the town of Kingston, and culminating in a great meeting at Albany, where the candidate spoke to a crowd estimated at from 7,000 to 10,000 people, packed in the city hall square under the shadow of the state-house.

Before this demonstration Mr. and Mrs. Bryan sat down to a dinner with Senator Hill and prominent Albany Democrats at the senator's magnificent home titled "Wolfert's Roost," whither they were driven directly from the depot, where a strong-lunged crowd came near to mobbing them on their arrival. Those who met the Democratic candidate and his wife at Mr. Hill's much discussed dinner were: Supreme Court Judge D. Cady Herrick and wife, Louis W. Pratt, the collector of customs, and wife, Norton Chase, chairman of the city Democratic committee, which, with other local organizations, had the meeting in charge. For nearly three hours Mr. Bryan was the guest of the New York senator, and, although every participant in the dinner averred that it was purely a social affair, their descriptions were taken with a grain of salt, it being the general impression that an understanding was reached which will insure to Mr. Bryan the support of the party organization in the state.

SENATOR HILL'S HOME.

Mr. Bryan, in his speech in city hall square, said that he endorsed every word of the Chicago platform, but that he expected the support of many Democrats, who are not willing to endorse all that the platform declares for. Then he said:

The Republican platform adopted at St. Louis declares that the gold standard must be maintained in this nation until other nations shall consent to its abandonment. We believe that this declaration which commits us to a gold standard until other nations come to our relief is equivalent to a declaration in favor of a permanent continuation of the gold standard, because we do not believe that other nations will take pity upon us before we take pity upon our own people. We have taken pity on this question; ought the American people to submit longer to a gold standard? (Cries of "no, no.") The Democratic party has begun a war of extermination against the gold standard. We ask no quarter, we give no quarter. We shall prosecute our warfare until there is not an American citizen that dares to advocate a gold standard policy. (Cheers.) You ask why? We reply that the gold standard is a conspiracy against the human race, and that we would no more join it than we would join an army marching to despoil our home and destroy our families. (Applause.) I ask you to take my word for the evils of the gold standard. I call as a witness a gentleman whose voice has been heard in the councils of the Democratic party, and who if you are inclined to accuse us of using extravagant language, I ask you to read and reflect upon the language used by John G. Carlisle in 1878. In a speech made in congress he said:

That is the language of John G. Carlisle. I believe he spoke the truth and if it was true then it is true today and will be true, no matter who may change his opinion or his course upon this question. Truths once uttered will live, no matter what may become of those who uttered those truths. Men cannot retract truths. That prophecy was spoken 18 years ago, and 18 years of fulfillment has enabled us to believe words which were believed by all at the time they were spoken. Our opponents tell us that the free coinage of silver is going to disturb business. I ask our opponents to write down the worst thing they can possibly think of as a possible consequence of the free coinage of silver, and when they have written their worst I would place against the most dismal prophecy they can utter the works of John G. Carlisle and tell them that I would like the worst thing they could think of rather than bring a misery greater than war, pestilence and famine. (Applause.) Can you imagine the meaning of those words? No, my friends, the imagination cannot conceive the tongue may never describe all that is wrapped up in those words.

Some of our opponents say that they are afraid that we cannot maintain bimetallicism alone. We reply to them that we have waited for 30 years for other nations to help us, and if we are going to restore alone, because others have got to restore it, assistance. (Applause.) More than that, we believe that the assertion of American independence will do more to bring about international bimetallicism than a service to us. (Applause.) Our opponents say that all we need is a restoration of confidence. My friends, confidence must have a basis to rest upon. Our opponents say that unless we shape our financial policy to suit the pleasure of foreign nations they will not loan us any money. We reply that we have shaped our financial policy according to their pleasure, and we will always be borrowers and can never be money-lenders ourselves. Confidence must rest upon a substantial basis.

Suppose that a man in your community gives out his notes, and that everybody has them and then somebody tries to collect a

Note and finds that the man has no property behind his notes, how can you restore confidence in that man, how can he inspire confidence in the community? Just in one way, and that is by putting property behind the notes that he has out. My friends how are you going to restore confidence in the United States by legislating value out of the property upon which notes rest? You have tried it and you have found that the bankruptcies have increased year by year and the only people who have prospered are those who own investments payable in dollars or money they are making out of the extremities of the government.

If you want to restore confidence you have got to restore prosperity to the great masses of the people, and talk as much about good property as they have been talking about good money. Money can be too good. It can be so good that you can't hold it, and pray for it, but cannot get hold of it. (Laughter.) Remember that whenever you make money dearer, when you increase its purchasing power, you have simply driven down the value of other things. And if those who own money and who hold contracts payable in dollars are willing to so legislate as to make their property more valuable, how can they appeal to those who own property and owe debts to join in that sort of legislation. I have asserted I asserted again that without the aid of the money-owning classes the gold standard would not stand for one day in any nation.

In this country, the only potent force consists of those who hold fixed investments, and those who as brokers profit by the greater bond issues. They tell the laboring man of this nation that they ought to support a gold standard. The laboring men have never found the financiers of this nation men who have exerted themselves to improve the condition of the laboring man. As long as the men who have spent their time trying to break down labor organizations—the only protection that the laboring man has had—these are the men who now come to the help of the laboring man. I ask you if you ought to expect blessings from those from whom you have only received cursings in the past? (Cries of "no, no.")

The party then boarded the train and went to Utica to spend the night. While Mr. Bryan was speaking to the crowd at Utica, a platform broke down and a number received slight injuries. However, Mr. Bryan finished his speech to the big crowd present.

Epidemic of Typhoid Fever.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 26.—The hamlet of Riversville, in Marion county, is passing through an epidemic of typhoid fever, nearly every family in the place being afflicted. Three new cases broke out, making a total of 23 persons now sick. The majority of the results are doing well, though they are all in the early stages, and the final results can not be predicted. The cause of the epidemic has not yet been found.

Terrible Tragedy in Tennessee.

DANVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 26.—Two men have shot and fatally injured Ab. Hinson, a well-known farmer, from ambush as the farmer was enroute home. It is reported that Joe Hinson, the wounded man's son, shot and killed one of the Wiggins brothers, who were charged with the shooting of Hinson's father, and cut his heart out.

Irish Agitator Goes Crazy.

SKIBBEREEN, Aug. 26.—Alfred George Whitehead, the Irish-American political prisoner who was released from Portland prison last week, has become completely deranged after seeing his mother and disappeared soon afterward. He has not been seen since, although searches have been scouring the neighborhood.

A Banker's Double Crime.

DOWELL, Mich., Aug. 26.—Charles Church, junior member of the private banking house of C. J. Church & Co., has shot and fatally wounded his wife and then committed suicide. The bank had closed its doors and Deputy Sheriff Cowan had called to serve a writ of attachment.

A NEW GOLD PARTY.

One Formed by Democrats In Pennsylvania.

AFRAID OF THE ELECTION LAW.

So They Named the Political Organization the "Jeffersonian Party"—Delegates Selected to the Democratic Gold Convention at Indianapolis.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—The gold standard Democrats of Pennsylvania met in convention in this city, nominated presidential electors and delegates to the national convention to be held in Indianapolis on Sept. 2 and adopted a vigorous platform responsive to their views on the money question and denounced in unmeasured terms the nominees chosen and the principles declared at Chicago.

With this convention a new state party came into existence to be known as the "Jeffersonian Party," singularly enough, its birthplace was the Pennsylvania Fund hall, where, 40 years ago was held the first national convention of the Republican party. The word "Democratic" was regretfully omitted from the name in deference to judicial decisions that the title of the older party could not be infringed upon.

The platform declares that the Chicago platform does not bind the Democrats of Pennsylvania, and reaffirms its allegiance to the Allentown platform.

HOKE SMITH'S PLANS.

He Says He Will Devote His Time to Law Practice.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary Hoke Smith has briefly outlined his plans in an interview. He said:

"I will retire from office on Sept. 1, and it is my purpose to return to Atlanta at once."

"My resignation was due alone to the fact that I intend to support Bryan and Sewall. I have always voted the regular Democratic ticket, and shall make no exception this year."

"It is my purpose to devote my time to the practice of law and to my private business. I have, however, signified my willingness to make two or three speeches in Georgia for the state and national ticket, but the time necessary to the resumption of attention to my professional and private business will not permit me to enter actively into the campaign outside my own state."

Governor Francis Pickens Smith's successor, will reach Washington some time before Tuesday, and is now closing up his affairs in Missouri. He has already formally signified his readiness to qualify on Sept. 1, when the resignation of Mr. Smith takes effect. The latter will leave immediately for the south.

BLACK FOR GOVERNOR.

The Gold Democrats of Illinois Nominate a State Ticket.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The gold standard and Democrats nominated for governor John C. Black and a full state ticket. The convention was bitterly against Governor Altgeld and the Chicago platform, and it had no hesitancy in declaring its position.

The platform omitted any reference to Governor Altgeld, although Monday night it was the intention to allude to him in terms more or less pointed. He was denounced by many of the speakers, however, and President Cleveland's name was cheered every time it was mentioned.

The platform had but little to say regarding silver, but was uncompromising in its declaration for the gold standard.

Fusion Being Arranged.

BAY CITY, Mich., Aug. 26.—The session of the three conventions, Democratic, Populist and Silver, effected little more than permanent organization and the adoption of the reports of the ordinary committees. The Democrats approved the platform and nominees of the Chicago convention. Fusion is being arranged.

Maine Republicans Celebrated.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Aug. 26.—The Republicans of Maine, according to custom, held a grand rally here at which were gathered thousands of auditors from all over the state as well as from other parts of New England. The speakers were Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Hon. Lee Fairchild and others.

Southard Nominated For Congress.

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 26.—At the Democratic convention of the Fifteenth congressional district General A. J. Warner, president of the Bimetallic League of America, presided. F. H. Southard was nominated for Congress and the Chicago platform endorsed.

Massachusetts Gold Democrats.

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The gold Democrats have elected delegates to Indianapolis. The resolutions repudiated the actions of the Chicago convention and endorsed the platform adopted by the state Democratic convention held on April 21 last.

Town Destroyed by Fire.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 26.—Ontonagon, Mich., has been destroyed by fire. Of the city of about 2,000 population hardly a house is left standing. Among the property destroyed is the extensive plant of the Diamond Match company and 60,000,000 feet of lumber in their yards. Conservative estimates place the loss at $1,500,000. No lives were lost.

Schilling In San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—G. M. Schilling, the celebrated athlete who has undertaken to walk from Pittsburgh to this city and back within ten months and to return with $1,000 in cash, although restricted from begging or purchasing supplies enroute, has arrived here 26 days ahead, but $200 behind his schedule.

A Receiver Appointed.

ANDERSON, Ind., Aug. 26.—Thomas K. Alken has been appointed receiver and placed in charge of the affairs and property of the Union Steel company of Alexandria, capitalized at $1,500,000.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The river fell two inches during the night, but is rising today.

A pretty dwelling is being built for John C. Shay on Fourth street.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Beardmore, West Market street—a son.

The Hilltops and Association club will play at Wellsville next Saturday.

James Calhoun, of Canton, is visiting at the home of his parents, Seventh street.

Day Simmers is home after a trip through the west in the interest of the Sebring company.

A party made up of Phoenix boys and their lady friends will drive to Fairview tomorrow evening.

The John Godwin property on Fifth street, was sold to A. J. Witzeman yesterday for $2,900.

James Cunningham has sold a valuable dog to Frank Godfrey. The consideration was $50.

Heber Davidson, Edward Applegate and Will Louthan rode to Pittsburg on their wheels this morning.

Mercer won another game for Washington yesterday, by holding the Cincinnati team down to eight hits.

The spirit of revival has again broken forth in Chester, and Reverend Sloane is conducting services every evening.

David Bryan, of the Sebring Pottery company, left for Erie, Pa., this morning. From that place he will go to Chicago.

It is suggested that council do something toward filling the hole on Bradshaw avenue, now that Avondale street is being paved.

A dead rat lay rotting in the sun which beat on Sixth street today. The odor was so offensive that pedestrians passed to the other side.

The board of improvements held a meeting before the regular session of council last evening, and waded through some important business.

Mrs. E. A. Chandler went to Columbus today as a delegate from the local lodge of the Ladies of the Maccabees, to attend the state convention of the order.

McKinley clubs are to be organized in Hanover and Tiltonville Saturday evening, and several local speakers have been invited to attend and make addresses.

Invitations have been sent to all the churches for the picnic at Spring Grove tomorrow. A large crowd is expected, and this city will be very well represented.

A test wire was stretched from the Virginia abutment to the tower on the Ohio side. It is for the purpose of determining the length of the cables of the bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brooks splendidly entertained the choir of the First M. E. church at Spring Grove last evening. Dinner was served, and the evening spent very pleasantly.

Miss Annie Monroe of Fourth street, who has been undergoing treatment for a complication of diseases in Mercy hospital, Pittsburg, returned home last evening, but is very little improved in health.

A young woman, considerably under the influence of liquor, attracted a large crowd at the corner of Washington and Fifth streets last night. She was ordered to move on by Colin Kinsey, but informed him she was waiting on a street car to go to Jackson street.

Miss Sadie McKenty who was the delegate from this city to the Young Peoples' Christian union convention held in Omaha, Neb., arrived home this morning. Richard Manor also returned, and the remainder of the party will visit in the west before coming back.

The Steubenville pottery is in operation half time, and the Herald says that by close management it has avoided the catastrophe which fell upon the plants at Toronto, Wellsville, and Cumberland. President Donaldson is quoted as saying that he never saw trade as dull.

Hugh Toland was fined $5.00 this morning for being drunk yesterday afternoon. He paid the amount and was released. The proprietors of the merry-go-round appeared before the mayor, paid their fines and the attachment on their property was lifted.

Yesterday afternoon a surly containing four young people drove up to the Diamond pump for the purpose of watering the horses. George Peach was standing nearby, and informed the people they would find a watering place farther down street. The people were evidently from Wellsville.

Since the Ohio Valley and Bridge-water gas companies have consolidated, the original intention of the former company to construct a pipe line across the river and connect with Wellsville, has been abandoned. The proposed extension of the lines in this city will not be necessary now that the Ohio Valley have full control of all lines in town.

The crop report for the week says the corn crop is in excellent condition, but the bulk of it needs two weeks of sunshine and some warm nights to make it a complete success. Potatoes are suffering from the ravages of bugs, and in some sections they are rotting in the ground because of the wet weather. Wheat is little better than a failure. There is little of it, and the quality is inferior.

The "Free" Silver Fallacy. The hopelessly weak point in any attempt to enrich the masses and establish prosperity with unlimited silver coinage, or any other flat money, is that there is no provision for distributing the wealth. After Mr. Bryan shall become president and free coinage shall be accomplished the people who were so eager to establish such a conjuncture of circumstances will finally discover that they are no better off than they were before. Not a man of them will be able to get a dollar, whether worth 50 cents or otherwise, except in the same way that money has always been got. It must be obtained in some sort of honest business or earned as wages. There is no other way in which an honest penny can be got.—New Orleans Picayune.

Some Things Nobody Can Do. It is idle to "hurl defiance" and boast of what this great nation can do. It never has been able to maintain bimetallicism under free coinage of both gold and silver, even when the conditions were far more favorable than now. This nation is unquestionably "broad enough to legislate for its own people without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on earth," but this nation tried for over 80 years to secure bimetallicism under a legal double standard, and completely failed. And as this nation, "broad" as it is, is not able to work miracles, it can no more perform such a feat now than it could in the past.

BRYAN GOING WEST.

Making Speeches Through New York State.

DINED WITH HILL AT ALBANY.

Several Prominent Democrats at the Same Table—Mr. Bryan Then Spoke to Fully 1,000 People—A Platform Broke Down at Utica.

ALBANY, Aug. 26.—The second day of William J. Bryan's trip westward from the seclusion of Red Hook was an eventful one, crowded with a variety of incidents of travel, including a picturesque reception at a summer hotel, a stirring speech to a crowd of workmen at the town of Kingston, and culminating in a great meeting at Albany, where the candidate spoke to a crowd estimated at from 7,000 to 10,000 people, packed in the city hall square under the shadow of the state-house.

Before this demonstration Mr. and Mrs. Bryan sat down to a dinner with Senator Hill and prominent Albany Democrats at the senator's magnificent home titled "Wolfert's Roost," whether they were driven directly from the dinner where a strong-lunged crowd came near to mobbing them on their arrival. Those who met the Democratic candidate and his wife at Mr. Hill's much discussed dinner were: Supreme Court Judge D. Cady Herrick and wife, Louis W. Pratt, the collector of customs, and wife, Norton Chase, chairman of the city Democratic committee, which, with other local organizations, had the meeting in charge. For nearly three hours Mr. Bryan was the guest of the New York senator, and, although every participant in the dinner averred that it was purely a social affair, their descriptions were taken with a grain of salt, it being the general impression that an understanding was reached which will insure to Mr. Bryan the support of the party organization in the state.

Mr. Bryan, in his speech in city hall square, said that he endorsed every word of the Chicago platform, but that he expected the support of many Democrats, who are not willing to endorse all that the platform declares for. Then he said:

The Republican platform adopted at St. Louis declares that the gold standard must be maintained in this nation until other nations shall consent to its abandonment. We believe that this declaration which commits us to a gold standard until other nations come to our relief is equivalent to a declaration in favor of a permanent continuation of the gold standard, because we do not believe that other nations will take pity upon us before we take pity upon our own people. We have then to consider this question: ought the American people to submit longer to a gold standard? (Cries of "no, no.") The Democratic party has begun a war of extermination against the gold standard. We ask no quarter, we give no quarter. We shall prosecute our warfare until there is not an American citizen that dares to advocate a gold standard policy. (Cries of "yes, yes.") We reply that the gold standard is a conspiracy against the human race, and that we would no more join it than we would join an army marching to depopulate our home and destroy our families.

That is the language of John G. Carlisle in 1878. In a speech made in congress he said:

"According to my opinion, the conspiracy which seems to have been formed here and in Europe to destroy by legislation and otherwise from three-sevenths to one-half the metallic money of the world is the most gigantic crime of this or any other age. Its consummation would ultimately entail more misery upon the human race than all the wars, pestilences and famines that ever occurred in the history of the world."

That is the language of John G. Carlisle. I believe he spoke the truth and it was true then it is true today and will be true, no matter who may change his opinion or his course upon this question. Truths once uttered will live, no matter what may become of those who uttered those truths. Men cannot retract truths. The prophecy was spoken 18 years ago, and 18 years of fulfillment has enabled us to believe words which were believed by all at the time they were spoken. Our opponents tell us that the free coinage of silver is going to disturb business. I ask our opponents to write down the worst thing they can possibly think of as a possible consequence of the immediate restoration of the free coinage of silver, and when they have written their worst, I would place against the most dismal prophecy they can utter the words of John G. Carlisle and tell them that I would like the worst thing they could think of rather than bring a misery greater than that which we have now.

Can you imagine the meaning of those words? No, my friends, the imagination cannot conceive, the tongue cannot describe, all that is wrapped up in those words.

Some of our opponents say that they are afraid that we cannot maintain bimetallicism alone. We reply to them that we have waited for 20 years for other nations to help us, and we are going to restore bimetallicism. We have got to restore it alone, because others do not come to our assistance. (Applause.) More than that, we believe that the assertion of American internationalism will do more to bring about dependence upon other nations than a servile dependence upon our enemies to bring it to us. (Applause.) Our opponents say that all we need is a restoration of confidence. My friends, confidence must have a basis to rest upon. Our opponents say that unless we shape our financial policy to suit the pleasure of foreign nations they will not loan us any money. We reply that as long as we shape our financial policy according to their pleasure we will always be borrowers and can never be money-lenders. Confidence must rest upon a substantial basis. Suppose that a man in your community gives out his notes until everybody has them and then somebody tries to collect a

A NEW GOLD PARTY.

One Formed by Democrats in Pennsylvania.

AFRAID OF THE ELECTION LAW.

So They Named the Political Organization the "Jeffersonian Party"—Delegates Selected to the Democratic Gold Convention at Indianapolis.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—The gold standard Democrats of Pennsylvania met in convention in this city, nominated presidential electors and delegates to the national convention to be held in Indianapolis on Sept. 2 and adopted a vigorous platform responsive to their views on the money question and denounced in unmeasured terms the nominees chosen and the principles declared at Chicago.

With this convention a new state party came into existence to be known as the "Jeffersonian party," singularly enough, its birthplace was Musical Fund hall, where, 40 years ago was held the first national convention of the Republican party. The word "Democratic" was regretfully omitted from the name in deference to judicial decisions that the title of the older party could not be infringed upon. The platform declares that the Chicago platform does not bind the Democrats of Pennsylvania, and reaffirms its allegiance to the Allentown platform.

HOKE SMITH'S PLANS.

He Says He Will Devote His Time to Law Practice.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary Hoke Smith has briefly outlined his plans in an interview. He said: "I will retire from office on Sept. 1, and it is my purpose to return to Atlanta at once."

"My resignation was due alone to the fact that I intend to support Bryan and Sewall. I have always voted the regular Democratic ticket, and shall make no exception this year."

"It is my purpose to devote my time to the practice of law and to my private business. I have, however, signified my willingness to make two or three speeches in Georgia for the state and national ticket, but the time necessary to the resumption of attention to my professional and private business will not permit me to enter actively into the campaign outside my own state."

Governor Francis, Secretary Smith's successor, will reach Washington some time before Tuesday, and is now closing up his affairs in Missouri. He has already formally signified his readiness to qualify on Sept. 1, when the resignation of Mr. Smith takes effect. The latter will leave immediately for the south.

BLACK FOR GOVERNOR.

The Gold Democrats of Illinois Nominate a State Ticket.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The gold standard and Democrats nominated for governor John C. Black and a full state ticket. The convention was bitterly against Governor Altgeld and the Chicago platform, and it had no hesitancy in declaring its position.

The platform omitted any reference to Governor Altgeld, although Monday night it was the intention to allude to him in terms more or less pointed. He was denounced by many of the speakers, however, and President Cleveland's name was cheered every time it was mentioned.

The platform had but little to say regarding silver, but was uncompromising in its declaration for the gold standard.

Fusion Being Arranged.

BAY CITY, Mich., Aug. 26.—The session of the three conventions, Democratic, Populist and Silver, effected little more than permanent organization and the adoption of the reports of the ordinary committees. The Democrats approved the platform and nominees of the Chicago convention. Fusion is being arranged.

Maine Republicans Celebrated.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Aug. 26.—The Republicans of Maine, according to custom, held a grand rally here at which were gathered thousands of auditors from all over the state as well as from other parts of New England. The speakers were Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Hon. Lee Fairchild and others.

Southard Nominated For Congress.

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 26.—At the Democratic convention of the Fifteenth congressional district General A. J. Varner, president of the Bimetallic League of America, presided. F. H. Southard was nominated for Congress and the Chicago platform endorsed.

Massachusetts Gold Democrats.

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—The gold Democrats have elected delegates to Indianapolis. The resolutions repudiated the actions of the Chicago convention and endorsed the platform adopted by the state Democratic convention held on April 21 last.

Town Destroyed By Fire.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 26.—Ontonagon, Mich., has been destroyed by fire. Of this city and back within ten months hardly a house is left standing. Among the property destroyed is the extensive plant of the Diamond Match company and 60,000,000 feet of lumber in their yards. Conservative estimates place the loss at $1,500,000. No lives were lost.

Schilling in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—G. M. Schilling, the one-armed athlete who has undertaken to walk from Pittsburgh to this city and back within ten months and to return with $1,000 in cash, although restricted from begging or chasing supplies enroute, has arrived here 26 days ahead, but $200 behind his schedule.

A Receiver Appointed.

ANDERSON, Ind., Aug. 26.—Thomas K. Aiken has been appointed receiver and placed in charge of the affairs and property of the Union Steel company of Alexandria, capitalized at $1,500,000.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The river fell two inches during the night, but is rising today.

A pretty dwelling is being built for John C. Shay on Fourth street.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Boardman, West Market street—a son.

The Hilltops and Association club will play at Wellsville next Saturday.

James Calhoun, of Canton, is visiting at the home of his parents, Seventh street.

Day Simmers is home after a trip through the west in the interest of the Sebring company.

A party made up of Phoenix boys and their lady friends will drive to Fairview tomorrow evening.

The John Godwin property on Fifth street, was sold to A. J. Witzeman yesterday for $2,900.

James Cunningham has sold a valuable dog to Frank Godfrey. The consideration was $50.

Heber Davidson, Edward Applegate and Will Louthan rode to Pittsburg on their wheels this morning.

Mercer won another game for Washington yesterday, by holding the Cincinnati team down to eight hits.

The spirit of revival has again broken forth in Chester, and Reverend Sloane is conducting services every evening.

David Bryan, of the Sebring Pottery company, left for Erie, Pa., this morning. From that place he will go to Chicago.

It is suggested that council do something toward filling the hole on Bradshaw avenue, now that Avondale street is being paved.

A dead rat lay rotting in the sun which beat on Sixth street today. The odor was so offensive that pedestrians passed to the other side.

The board of improvements held a meeting before the regular session of council last evening, and waded through some important business.

Mrs. E. A. Chandler went to Columbus today as a delegate from the local lodge of the Ladies of the Maccabees, to attend the state convention of the order.

McKinley clubs are to be organized in Hanover and Tiltonville Saturday evening, and several local speakers have been invited to attend and make addresses.

Invitations have been sent to all the churches for the picnic at Spring Grove tomorrow. A large crowd is expected, and this city will be very well represented.

A test wire was stretched from the Virginia abutment to the tower on the Ohio side. It is for the purpose of determining the length of the cables of the bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brooks splendidly entertained the choir of the First M. E. church at Spring Grove last evening. Dinner was served, and the evening spent very pleasantly.

Miss Annie Monroe of Fourth street, who has been undergoing treatment for a complication of diseases in Mercy hospital, Pittsburg, returned home last evening, but is very little improved in health.

A young woman, considerably under the influence of liquor, attracted a large crowd at the corner of Washington and Fifth streets last night. She was ordered to move on by Colin Kinsey, but informed him she was waiting on a street car to go to Jackson street.

Miss Sadie McKenty who was the delegate from this city to the Young Peoples' Christian union convention held in Omaha, Neb., arrived home this morning. Richard Manor also returned, and the remainder of the party will visit in the west before coming back.

The Steubenville pottery is in operation half time, and the Herald says that by close management it has avoided the catastrophe which fell upon the plants at Toronto, Wellsville, and Cumberland. President Donaldson is quoted as saying that he never saw trade as dull.

Hugh Toland was fined $5.00 this morning for being drunk yesterday afternoon. He paid the amount and was released. The proprietors of the merry-go-round appeared before the mayor, paid their fines and the attachment on their property was lifted.

Yesterday afternoon a surly containing four young people drove up to the Diamond pump for the purpose of watering the horses. George Peach was standing nearby, and informed the people they would find a watering place farther down street. The people were evidently from Wellsville.

Since the Ohio Valley and Bridge-water gas companies have consolidated, the original intention of the former company to construct a pipe line across the river and connect with Wellsville, has been abandoned. The proposed extension of the lines in this city will not be necessary now that the Ohio Valley have full control of all lines in town.

The crop report for the week says the corn crop is in excellent condition, but the bulk of it needs two weeks of sunshine and some warm nights to make it a complete success. Potatoes are suffering from the ravages of bugs, and in some sections they are rotting in the ground because of the wet weather. Wheat is little better than a failure. There is little of it, and the quality is inferior.

One-cent piece	.01	.01

The "Free" Silver Fallacy.

The hopelessly weak point in any attempt to enrich the masses and establish prosperity with unlimited silver coinage, or any other flat money, is that there is no provision for distributing the wealth. After Mr. Bryan shall be accomplished the people who were so eager to establish such a conjuncture of circumstances will finally discover that they are no better off than they were before. Not a man of them will be able to get a dollar, whether worth 50 cents or otherwise, except in the same way that money has always been got. It must be obtained in some sort of honest business or earned as wages. There is no other way in which an honest penny can be got.—New Orleans Picayune.

Some Things Nobody Can Do.

It is idle to "hurl defiance" and boast of what this great nation can do. It never has been able to maintain bimetallicism under free coinage of both gold and silver, even when the conditions were far more favorable than now. This nation is unquestionably "broad enough to legislate for its own people without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on earth," but this nation tried for over 80 years to secure bimetallicism under a legal double standard, and completely failed. And as this nation, "broad" as it is, is not able to work miracles, it can no more perform such a feat now than it could in the past.

CURBSTONE POLITICIANS.

They All Talk Over the Situation in the North.

Traveling salesmen coming to the city are unanimous in the declaration that towns along the Fort Wayne road in this county are wild over politics. One well known drummer said he does not meet such a condition in any other part of the state. A politician with some local reputation will stand on the street talking politics, and in a few minutes will have an audience ranging from 50 to 100 people. He said they were crazy over politics, and the business men were constantly discussing public questions.

MAY MEET TONIGHT.

School Board Want Out of the Financial Tangle.

There may be a meeting of the board of education this evening for the purpose of unraveling, if possible, the financial tangle. Members know that something should be done, and an effort will be made to reach a final settlement. Any number of stories were floating about the city today, but they all seemed to be without foundation. The board only voted on Monday night to renew the two notes, and the meeting tonight, if it is held, will attempt to put all the debt on the same basis.

THEY GAVE IT UP.

There Will Be No Free Silver Attraction at the Fair.

It is understood, and the statement came from persons in authority, that there will be no big free silver attraction at the street fair. The silver people thought it would be a good thing and urged it strongly, but there were others who objected to the injection of politics into the matter and it died. Whether Mr. Bryan or Mr. Teller will be here before the campaign ends remains to be seen, but the opinion is expressed that neither will come.

WHY SILVER IS CHEAP.

It is suffering the penalty which follows overproduction.

In a reply to the public statement which ex-Secretary Whitney recently put forth, ex-Governor Boies reiterates the preposterous fallacy that the depreciation of silver is due to the "crime of '73," and demands that the "law shall be made to restore to the people of this union what the law has taken away from them." Let us see just how much the law has had to do with the fall in the price of the white metal.

From 1792 to 1873, inclusive, a period of 81 years, the total silver product of this country was $164,150,000. From 1873 to 1894, inclusive, a period of only 21 years, the silver product reached the stupendous total of $1,042,699,000. During the former period the average annual product was less than $2,000,000. From 1792 to 1894 it was less than $25,000,000. During the period of 1873-94 the average annual product was over $50,000,000.

In the two years of 1892 and 1893 alone we produced more silver than during the whole 80 years of the existence of this republic prior to 1873. In 1873 the total silver product of the entire globe, the United States included, was about $80,000,000. In 1892 the silver product of this country alone was millions greater than that of the entire world 20 years earlier. On the other hand, the gold output of the United States was practically the same in 1894 that it was in 1873. Between 1859 and 1892 the domestic silver output leaped from $12,000,000 to $82,000,000 per annum.

More significant still is the change which the commercial value of the white metal has undergone. In 1873 the market ratio of gold to silver was 1 to 16.92. In the face of this single fact, what nonsense it is to assert that the free coinage of silver maintained the value of that metal. In 1873 less than 300,000 silver dollars were turned out of the Federal mints. An ounce of silver in 1873 was worth $1.30. Today it is worth about 86 cents. The bullion value of a silver dollar in 1873 was $1.0044. Today it is about half that sum.

The only law concerned in the depreciation of silver is the economic law of supply and demand. Silver, like any other commodity, is suffering the penalty which universally follows overproduction, and no fiat of government can make the result otherwise.—New York Commercial-Advertiser.

Special Rates via Pennsylvania Lines for National Encampment.

August 30 and 31 and September 1 are the dates upon which low rate round trip tickets to St. Paul will be sold via Pennsylvania lines, the short route through Chicago. Tickets will be good returning until September 15, inclusive, and if deposited with the joint agent at St. Paul on or before September 15, the return limit will be extended to include September 30. The rates for this occasion will be exceptionally low via Pennsylvania lines, the only system of railways over which trains run from Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana to Chicago union station, the natural gateway from those states to the northwest. Daily trains from Pittsburg, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Louisville make convenient connection at Chicago with St. Paul trains. Arrangements may be made by Grand Army posts or parties of friends to travel together on special trains or special car that will go through from starting point to the encampment without change, if the number justifies it. Information on the subject will be cheerfully furnished by representatives of the Pennsylvania lines. The person to address at East Liverpool is Ticket Agent Adam Hill.

A Great Event.

The Lisbon fair will this year be held on September 15, 16, 17, and the managers promises to make it the best in its history. Additions are being made to the cattle pens, and a new building will be erected for poultry. A special effort will be made to have good racing.

Some Ball Games.

A BALLOON RIDE.

There was to be a balloon ascension on the common in Poppleton. Tommy Hayden had made friends with the aeronaut and had got permission to make the ascent with him.

It was 3 o'clock, and the crowd was beginning to be impatient, when all at once the aeronaut came and whispered in Tommy's ear:

"Well, what do you think now? Do you want to go?"

Tommy answered: "Yes," as decidedly as before, and almost before he could realize his good fortune he was in the car of the balloon, and the man standing beside him had given the word to the attendants, and they were sailing up through the air with a velocity that almost took away his breath.

Then the balloon sailed away from Poppleton, or rather from the Poppleton skies, for it seemed to Tommy that they had got as high up into the sky as anybody ever did, and he had begun to wonder if he wasn't going to heaven like Enoch, when he had read about in his Sabbath school lesson, but soon found they were floating over toward Oldport. Then directly they were sailing over the ships in Oldport harbor, straight toward the ocean. And Tommy began to be a little alarmed.

"I think we have been far enough. I think we should go back now," he said anxiously.

"Go back!" cried the aeronaut, who seemed to be enjoying himself very much, his black eyes glowing and his thin cheeks flushed. "Why, we haven't fairly begun our journey yet. My dear boy, do you know where we are going?" And he whispered as mysteriously as if there were somebody near to hear. "We are going to accomplish the most wonderful feat the world has ever witnessed! We are going directly across the Atlantic! We shall land at Liverpool in two days! Think of it! I thought of going to the moon at first, but after you decided to accompany me I changed my mind, thinking it would be pleasanter for you to visit Europe, for I have made one journey to the moon, and it is not by any means so fine a place as it is supposed to be—cold and disagreeable, my boy." And he shrugged his shoulders and wrapped his coat still more closely around him.

Tommy looked at him in astonishment, which soon changed to terror as he began to realize that he must be insane. But if he were so why had he not discovered it?

"I don't want to go to Europe. I would much rather go back to Poppleton," said Tommy, trying to speak coolly, though his voice shook with fear.

"Go back to Poppleton, you little coward! You are afraid," said the aeronaut, looking eagerly at Tommy, whose great blue eyes were beginning to fill with tears.

"No, no. I ain't!" sobbed Tommy. "But I've rode long enough."

"What a fool you are!" said the man. "This is glorious, glorious!" And out went another bag of sand and up went the balloon higher still into the air, until now the vessel looked like nothing more than a fleecy crawling over the bay.

But just at that moment, as by a miracle, Tommy thought, the wind veered and wafted them toward the shore of the bay—in an opposite direction from Poppleton, to be sure; but merely to have land instead of that dreadful water under him would be happiness, Tommy thought.

But the madman—there could be no doubt that he was such—took alarm at once. He conceived the idea that enemies were waiting for him on the shore and he declared that he preferred to drop down into the water rather than fall into their hands, and to Tommy's terror he pulled a string that hung near his hand and the balloon began to descend with frightful rapidity. They could hear the shouts of the sailors on the vessels. Tommy held his breath, awaiting the end, when all at once a thought struck him, and acting upon it instantly he threw one of the remaining bags of sand out of the car. An order followed it before the aeronaut could stay his hand, and the balloon began again still drifting toward the shore. Before the man, astonished at Tommy's boldness, had presence of mind enough to pull the string again, they hung over the edge of the land, which had never looked so inviting to Tommy's eyes before.

Then he pulled the string, but more forcibly than he meant. He felt as if the wind was rushing in upon him and he was stationary. There was a great rushing noise in his ears, and then he felt a shock, as if he and earth had crashed together. And then all was a blank.

It was a long time before he came back to consciousness, and then his mother's face, which he had never expected to see again, was bending over him. His first feeling was surprise and thankfulness to find himself alive, and the next anxiety to learn the fate of his companion. And when he heard how narrow his escape had been, you may be sure his hair stood up straight and his blue eyes grew rounder than ever before. The balloon caught in a tree, and that was all that saved them both from being dashed to pieces. The town where they made their hasty descent was not far from Oldport, and one of the crowd which collected immediately recognizing Tommy's parents were at once sent for. The poor crazy aeronaut was more seriously injured than Tommy and was carried to a hospital by the friends who had really been in search of him and whom he had fancied his enemies. He was insane only at intervals, and while in Poppleton arranging for his balloon ascension no one had noticed anything strange in his manner. Well I tell you that it was Tommy's last as well as his first ride in a balloon.—New York News.

Our Primary Education.

One cannot have had any experience of the instruction of European boys and girls without being conscious of the radical contrast between the spirit of the elementary schoolroom abroad and in this country. There is among the little people abroad a peculiar sort of application of which among American children you will find not the smallest trace. It is not a question of industry. The juvenile American is as willing to learn and as quick about it as any other. It is a matter of mental attitude. The schoolroom where European children acquire the rudiments of education is, in some unanalyzable way, a quieter, remotespot—one more shut off from the distractions that come from without, and notably more serious.

Learning may look to the youthful minds within those walls to be a dull thing, but it is certain, without their being aware of it, to seem a dignified thing. And the routine has a repose that gradually accustoms the juvenile scholar until it shapes him to this application—to a mood of patient attentiveness and a sort of ruminative receptivity that, so far as ultimate fruitfulness is concerned, may in every instance be safely preferred to all the precocious personal "brightness" and "alertness" in the world.—Scribner's.

The Burden of Proof.

The burden of proof rests, of course, on the free silver people. They propose a radical and revolutionary change in our financial system, and it is for them to demonstrate that it will produce beneficial results. They want to make an experiment which will turn out disastrously if it does not work favorably. The experience of countries already having the silver standard shows indisputably that there it causes evil, for instance, in sending up prices of the necessities of life while it does not raise wages correspondingly.

Hence it is for the free silver people and newspapers to prove absolutely that their scheme would produce no such result in this country especially, and to show why we should be an exception to the general rule. If a man wants to sell you a contrivance which, he says, will enable you to jump from Trinity steeple without hurting yourself, and proposes that you shall try it to test his pretensions, you are likely to decline, especially if it has proved unsuccessful when tried by other people.—New York Sun.

What We Can.

Candidate Bryan, with much gusto, asks why the United States can not "maintain a financial system of our own." No one says we can not, Mr. Bryan, but the Republican party says that it must be an honest system. There's the difference between your position and that of the Republican party.

Reputation.

It is better for a Democratic to repudiate his party than to vote with it for the repudiation of honest debts.—Globe Democrat.

CURBSTONE POLITICIANS.

They All Talk Over the Situation in the North.

Traveling salesmen coming to the city are unanimous in the declaration that towns along the Fort Wayne road in this county are wild over politics. One well known drummer said he does not meet such a condition in any other part of the state. A politician with some local reputation will stand on the street talking politics, and in a few minutes will have an audience ranging from 50 to 100 people. He said they were crazy over politics, and the business men were constantly discussing public questions.

MAY MEET TONIGHT.

School Board Want Out of the Financial Tangle.

There may be a meeting of the board of education this evening for the purpose of unraveling, if possible, the financial tangle. Members know that something should be done, and an effort will be made to reach a final settlement. Any number of stories were floating about the city today, but they all seemed to be without foundation. The board only voted on Monday night to renew the two notes, and the meeting tonight, if it is held, will attempt to put all the debt on the same basis.

THEY GAVE IT UP.

There Will Be No Free Silver Attraction at the Fair.

It is understood, and the statement came from persons in authority, that there will be no big free silver attraction at the street fair. The silver people thought it would be a good thing and urged it strongly, but there were others who objected to the injection of politics into the matter and it died. Whether Mr. Bryan or Mr. Teller will be here before the campaign ends remains to be seen, but the opinion is expressed that neither will come.

ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

East Liverpool, Aug. 1, 1896.

The assessments for street improvements and sewers for the year 1896 are due and payable at the office of the City Clerk, on or before the first day of Sept., 1896. All assessments unpaid at that date will be certified to the County Auditor and collected with 10 per cent. penalty.

WHY SILVER IS CHEAP.

It is suffering the penalty which follows overproduction.

In a reply to the public statement which ex-Secretary Whitney recently put forth, ex-Governor Boies reiterates the preposterous fallacy that the depreciation of silver is due to the "crime of '73," and demands that the "law shall be made to restore to the people of this union what the law has taken away from them." Let us see just how much the law has had to do with the fall in the price of the white metal.

From 1792 to 1873, inclusive, a period of 81 years, the total silver product of this country was $164,150,000. From 1873 to 1894, inclusive, a period of only 21 years, the silver product reached the stupendous total of $1,042,899,000. During the former period the average annual product was less than $2,000,000. From 1792 to 1890 it was less than $25,000. During the period of 1873-94 the average annual product was over $50,000,000.

In the two years of 1892 and 1893 alone we produced more silver than during the whole 80 years of the existence of this republic prior to 1873. In 1872 the total silver product of the entire globe, the United States included, was about $80,000,000. In 1892 the silver product of this country alone was millions greater than that of the entire world 20 years earlier. On the other hand, the gold output of the United States was practically the same in 1894 that it was in 1873. Between 1859 and 1892 the domestic silver output leaped from $12,000,000 to $82,000,000 per annum.

More significant still is the change which the commercial value of the white metal has undergone. In 1873 the market ratio of gold to silver was 1 to 16.92. In the face of this single fact, what nonsense it is to assert that the free coinage of silver maintained the value of that metal. In 1873 less than 300,000 silver dollars were turned out of the Federal mints. An ounce of silver in 1873 was worth $1.30. Today it is worth about 86 cents. The bullion value of a silver dollar in 1873 was $1.004. Today it is about half that sum.

The only law concerned in the depreciation of silver is the economic law of supply and demand. Silver, like any other commodity, is suffering the penalty which universally follows overproduction, and no fiat of government can make the result otherwise.—New York Commercial-Advertiser.

Special Rates via Pennsylvania Lines for National Encampment.

August 30 and 31 and September 1 are the dates upon which low rate round trip tickets to St. Paul will be sold via Pennsylvania lines, the short route through Chicago. Tickets will be good returning until September 15, inclusive, and if deposited with the joint agent at St. Paul on or before September 15, the return limit will be extended to include September 30. The rates for this occasion will be exceptionally low via Pennsylvania lines, the only system of railways over which trains run from Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana to Chicago union station, the natural gateway from those states to the northwest. Daily trains from Pittsburgh, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Louisville make convenient connection at Chicago with St. Paul trains. Arrangements may be made by Grand Army posts or parties of friends to travel together on special trains or special car that will go through from starting point to the encampment without change, if the number justifies it. Information on the subject will be cheerfully furnished by representatives of the Pennsylvania lines. The person to address at East Liverpool is Ticket Agent Adam Hill.

A Great Event.

The Lisbon fair will this year be held on September 15, 16, 17, and the managers promise to make it the best in its history. Additions are being made to the cattle pens, and a new building will be erected for poultry. A special effort will be made to have good racing.

Some Ball Games.

The clerks base ball teams of Wells-ville and this city will play at the campground tomorrow afternoon.

The Tombstones would like to play Dan Yant's clerks at any time or place for love or money. Wells-ville grounds are preferred.

A BALLOON RIDE.

There was to be a balloon ascension on the common in Poppleton. Tommy Hayden had made friends with the aeronaut and had got permission to make the ascent with him.

It was 3 o'clock, and the crowd were beginning to be impatient, when all at once the aeronaut came and whispered in Tommy's ear:

"Well, what do you think now? Do you want to go?"

Tommy answered "Yes" as decidedly as before, and almost before he could realize his good fortune he was in the car of the balloon, and the man standing beside him had given the word to the attendants, and they were sailing up through the air with a velocity that almost took away his breath.

Then the balloon sailed away from Poppleton, or rather from the Poppleton skies, for it seemed to Tommy that they had got as high up into the sky as anybody ever did, and he had begun to wonder if he wasn't going to heaven like Enoch, whom he had read about in his Sabbath school lesson, but soon found they were floating over toward Oldport. Then directly they were sailing over the ships in Oldport harbor, straight toward the ocean. And Tommy began to be a little alarmed.

"I think we have been far enough. I think we should go back now," he said anxiously.

"Go back!" cried the aeronaut, who seemed to be enjoying himself very much, his black eyes glowing and his thin cheeks flushed. "Why, we haven't fairly begun our journey yet. My dear boy, do you know where we are going?" And he whispered as mysteriously as if there were somebody near to hear. "We are going to accomplish the most wonderful feat the world has ever witnessed! We are going directly across the Atlantic! We shall land at Liverpool in two days! Think of it! I thought of going to the moon at first, but after you decided to accompany me I changed my mind, thinking it would be pleasanter for you to visit Europe, for I have made one journey to the moon, and it is not by any means so fine a place as it is supposed to be—cold and disagreeable, my boy." And he shrugged his shoulders and wrapped his coat still more closely around him.

Tommy looked at him in astonishment, which soon changed to terror as he began to realize that he must be insane. But if he were so why had no one discovered it?

"I don't want to go to Europe. I would much rather go back to Poppleton," said Tommy, trying to speak coolly, though his voice shook with fear.

"Go back to Poppleton, you little coward! You are afraid," said the aeronaut, looking eagerly at Tommy, whose great blue eyes were beginning to fill with tears.

"No, no. I ain't!" sobbed Tommy. "But I've rode long enough."

"What a fool you are!" said the man. "This is glorious, glorious!" And out went another bag of sand and up went the balloon higher still into the air, until now the vessels looked like nothing more than flies crawling over the bay.

But just at that moment, as by a miracle, Tommy thought, the wind veered and wafted them toward the shore of the bay—in an opposite direction from Poppleton, to be sure; but merely to have land instead of that dreadful water under him would be happiness, Tommy thought.

But the madman—there could be no doubt that he was such—took alarm at once. If a man wants to sell you a contrivance which, he says, will enable you to jump from Trinity steeple without hurting yourself, and proposes that you shall try it to test his pretensions, you are likely to decline, especially if it has proved unsuccessful when tried by other people.—New York Sun.

Itainly We Can.

Candidate Bryan, with much gusto, asks why the United States can not "maintain a financial system of our own." No one says we can not, Mr. Bryan, but the Republican party says that it must be an honest system. There's the difference between your position and that of the Republican party.

Reputation.

It is better for a Democratic to repudiate his party than to vote with it for the repudiation of honest debts.—Globe Democrat.

In the state of Bryan's residence five hitherto Democratic newspapers have bolted the ticket.—Sioux Falls Argus
